U. S. Troops Invade Mexico

U. S. Army Crosses Border to Capture Bandits Acting on Sec. Baker's Orders

Once more troops of the United States have invaded a foreign country and simultaneously it has to be recorded that the United States army again has had to invade Mexico in pursuit of outlaws and bandits the government of Mexico cannot or will not, try to capture.

The specific military unit entering Mexico today was the 8th United States Cavalry. The cavalrymen crossed the border near Candelaria, Texas, at 6.19 a. m. Presumably by the time these lines are written the cavalry regiment is quite a few miles across the border. The wonderful efficiency of the army signal corps is testified to by the fact that this noon American afternoon papers received news direct from the headquarters of the American punitive expedition, the news coming to Marfa, Texas, by army field telephone and thence to Candelaria.

That the present and perhaps history making military exploit is no

hastily decided upon plan is seen by the fact that when Secretary of War Baker was shown the news despatch stating American troops had entered Mexico this forenoon he smiled his satisfaction and said that the colonel of the 8th Cavalry troops had only awaited the safe arrival in Texas of Aviators Davis and Peterson. Mr. Baker certified the expedition was being conducted with the full knowledge and approval of the war department. He said further information on this subject would not be forthcoming until he received further word from the border, possibly not until official messages had been received from the commander of the 8th Cavalry.

Lieuts. H. G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis, one a Californian and the other a Minnesotan, did not hesitate to immediately start back into Mexico, following their safe deliverance from the bandits early today in the course of which they escaped after paying the bandits only half of the stipulated ransom money, in the capacity of guides. Men of observation and highly efficient officers, they should be of great aid to the leaders of the punitive expedition in hunting down the Mexican bandits.

While the long column of cavalrymen with the regimental equipment of wireless, telephone lines and supply trains of motor trucks and spools wound snappily towards the other side of the Rio Grande, American army aviators soared overhead constantly ahead of the column on scout duty and constantly sending back telephone and wireless reports of the outlook ahead.

It was a business-like looking expedition when this invader of old Mexico started on its mission of upholding the law and its departure had been evidently unhampered by the United States waiting in Carranza's ante room asking the Mexican government if Uncle Sam could please go and hunt down the naughty outlaws.

60 MORE CITY EMPLOYEES GO

Commissioner Murphy to Drop Sewer Dept. Workers This Evening

Action Follows Council's Refusal to Grant Loan of $25,000—Will Stop Work

Another big curtailment of municipal employment will go into effect this evening when Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy will notify 60 employees of the sewer department that owing to the failure of the municipal council to give him money at its meeting this morning, he will have to discontinue their services at once and will have to stop work on three big sewer jobs.

Murphy's Ultimatum
The commissioner asked the council to borrow $25,000 for sewers, but this was opposed and on motion of Commissioner George E. Marchand the amount was reduced to $10,000, but this was also defeated. Mayor Thompson and Commissioners Morse and Donnelly voting against it. Just before the vote was put, Commissioner Murphy delivered an ultimatum to members of the council that unless he was given the money he would have to stop sewer work this evening as he had only a

Restless World Waits For Nation's Tribunals to Adopt Peace Plan Wilson Tells Committee

History Made at White House as President Discusses Foreign Treaty With Senators—No Progress Until Treaty in Some Form is Approved—Continued Delay Menaces America's Trade in Europe and Other Continents—Domestic Affairs Not in Peace Treaty's Province

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Under conditions without precedent in the history of American treaty making, Pres. Wilson and the senate foreign relations committee, arranged to meet in the Blue Room of the White House today, to talk over the treaty with Germany and its League of Nations covenant.

The meeting established a new milestone in the trend toward publicity in treaty consideration. Expert stenographers had been provided to turn out for the public in short relays a word-for-word record of all that transpired.

It was the first time, also that representatives of the senate, discussing foreign affairs, with the other branch of the treaty-making power, could question at the same time the head of the delegation which negotiated the treaty under discussion. The president sat in the conference rather as a responsible delegate to Versailles than as the head of the national government.

Although Mr. Wilson himself discussed the first draft of the league covenant with the committee at the famous White House dinner of last March, senators said there was no exact parallel for today's formal questioning of a chief executive on a treaty actually before the committee for ratification. The nearest approach, they said, had been the action of President Washington in going before the senate itself in executive session to discuss questions involved in the treaties with the Indians.

More than one of the witnesses questioned by the committee, included Secretary Lansing, have declared the president personally negotiated details of the League of Nations covenant and the Shantung provision and that he alone of the American delegates, could give some of the information desired.

President Wilson began his conference with the senate foreign rela-

HIGH LIGHTS OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S TREATY MESSAGE

Replying to Senator Fall, who suggested that as Germany was not a member of the League of Nations, amendments to the league covenant would not be submitted to her, and she would not have to give her consent, the president said:

"I will admit that that point had not occurred to me. No, she would not."

The much discussed article 10, the president told the senators, was not of doubtful interpretation when read in connection with the whole covenant. The council, he said, could only "advise" and as its action must be unanimous, the affirmative vote of the United States would be necessary to question affecting it.

Article 18, the president said, provided that where there is a dispute found to be solely within the jurisdiction of one of the parties under international law, the league council shall so report and make no recommendation for its settlement. Immigration, tariffs and the like, the president said, clearly came under that provision.

President Wilson told the foreign relations committee at the outset of his conference today that he could see no "reasonable objection" to interpretations of how the United States accepts the League of Nations provided such interpretations did not form a part of the formal ratification itself.

If interpretations were part of the formal ratification, the president contended, long delays would follow as other governments would have to "accept in effect the language of the senate as the language of the treaty before ratification would be complete."

Most of the interpretations, the president said, seemed to him to suggest the "plain meaning of the instrument itself."

The president told the committee the league council would have "nothing whatever" to do with deciding whether the United States had fulfilled its obligations in case of withdrawal from the league.

"Article X seems to me to constitute the very backbone of the whole covenant. Without it the league would be hardly more than an international debating society."

The president said the United States would have "complete freedom of choice as to the application of force" in carrying out Article 10, of the league covenant.

He said: "Mr. Chairman, I am sincerely glad that the committee should have responded in this way to my intimation that I would like to be of service to it. I welcome the opportunity for a frank and full interchange of views."

"I hope too, that this conference will serve to expedite your consideration of the treaty of peace. I beg that you will pardon and indulge me if I again urge, that practically the whole task of bringing the country back to normal conditions of life and industry waits on the decision of the senate with regard to the terms of the peace.

Nation's Crisis Demands Action

"I venture thus again to urge my advice that the action of the senate with regard to the treaty be taken at the earliest practicable moment, because the problems with which we are face to face in the readjustment of our national life are of the most pressing and critical character, will require for their proper solution the most intimate and disinterested cooperation of all parties and all interests, and cannot be postponed without manifest peril to our people and to all the national advantages we hold most dear. May I mention a few of the matters which cannot be handled with intelligence until the country knows the character of the peace it is to have? I do so only by a very few samples.

"The copper mines of Montana and Alaska, for example, are being kept open and in operation only at a great cost and loss, in part upon borrowed money; the zinc mines of Missouri, Tennessee and Wisconsin are being operated at about one-half their capacity; the lead of Idaho, Illinois and Missouri reaches only a portion of its former market; there is an immediate need for cotton belling and also, for lubricating oil—which cannot be made all because the channels of trade are barred by war when there is no war. The same is true of raw cotton, of which the central empire alone formerly purchased nearly four million bales, and these are only examples.

TRUSTEES WILL STAND BY AWARD

Send Letter to Carmen Urging Acceptance of War Labor Board's Finding

Carmen Are Dissatisfied and General Sentiment Favors Strike—The Letter

In a letter addressed to the members of the 15 local unions of the Eastern Massachusetts (Bay State) Street Railway Co. made public today by the board of trustees and a copy of which was received this morning by Thomas J. Powers, president of the Lowell union, the trustees announce that it is their intention to stand firmly by the war labor board's recent wage award of 12 per cent, increase "by which the public must pay $1,000,000 more in wages this year to our men" and call upon the employees of the road "to cooperate with us in protecting the public from such an outrage as the willful repudiation of the award."

LODGE WILL SPEED TREATY

White House Talk Marked by Spirit of Co-operation and Frankness

Wilson Tells Bay State Senator Europe Waits for Action by Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Following the president's having delivered his statement Senator Lodge arose and said:

"Mr. President, so far as I am personally concerned—and I think I represent perhaps the majority of the committee in that respect—we have no thought of entering upon arguments as to interpretations or points of that character; but the committee was very desirous of getting information on certain points which seem not clear and on which they thought information would be of value to have in consideration of the treaty which they, I think I may say for myself and others, desire to hasten in every possible way.

"Our reference to the necessity of action leads me to ask one question. If we have to restore peace to the world, it is necessary, I assume, that there should be treaties with Austria, Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria. Those treaties are at large or less connected with the treaty with Germany. The question I should like to ask is what the prospects are of receiving those treaties for action.

The president: "I think it is very

HEAVY DEMAND FOR ARMY FOOD

Orders for $2500 Worth of Canned Goods Placed at Postoffice

"Canned Willie" and "Goldfish" Become Popular—Sale Continues Tomorrow

In spite of the threatening weather of today, a constant stream of Lowell people passed through the corridors of the post office this morning, placing orders for the foodstuffs being sold by the government through the agencies of postal authorities. At noon the day's orders, added to yesterday's, represented purchases to the amount of $2500 and as the opportunity to order continues until tomorrow night, it is expected that the total sales will amount to a sum considerably in excess of $3500.

The crowd of purchasers resembled a grim army, recruited from the public ranks and marshaled together to march shoulder to shoulder against the battlements of the high cost of living. It was an army whose compelling spirit seemed to be righteous indignation against unwonted cost and each order placed was an individual condemnation of profiteers and profiteering.

Today was "canned willie" and "goldfish" day, or, translated into civilian tongue, corned beef and salmon, and the orders this forenoon for these two foods ran far ahead of any others. Doughboys who used to turn the other way with unseeing eyes, when children stole two or three cans of this pair of "regulars" from the company kitchen, now send their wives to place orders with the postmaster for these delicacies, and real delicacies they will become when home cooking adds its magic touch.

It was apparent that business was more brisk this morning than on yesterday, and this in spite of lowering skies. The postmaster was obliged to place another clerk in the corridor to assist the two men previously assigned to the duty of receiving orders. If the present rush continues, Postmaster Meahan believes Lowell's entire allotment will be spoken for before the closing hour tomorrow night.

Large orders continue to feature the sale. In a few cases, customers have ordered a few cans of this and that, but in the majority of instances, folks are ordering by the case. The 100-pound bags of rice, flour and dry beans also are selling well.

good, sir, and so far as I can judge from the contents of the despatches from my colleagues on the other side of the water, the chief delay is due to the uncertainty as to what is going to happen to this treaty. This treaty is a model of the others. I saw enough of the others before I left Paris to know that they are being framed upon the same set of principles and that the treaty with Germany is the model. I think that is the chief element of delay, sir."

U. S. AIRMEN TELL ABOUT CAPTURE

Found Themselves in Mexico—Outlaw Takes Them as They Hunt for Camp

Bandit Chief Once Worked in Kansas—Army Captain Saves $7500

MARFA, Tex., Aug. 19.—Lieuts. H. G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis, aviators of the United States army, held captive for more than a week by Mexican bandits, who demanded a ransom of $15,000, were rescued early this morning by Captain Matlack of the Eighth Cavalry and are safe in American territory.

Story of Airmen's Adventure

The aviators landed on the American side of the river, Lieut. Peterson said. Upon their arrival at Candelaria, a week ago Sunday, their engine developed trouble and they were forced to land, smashing their landing gear and fuselage in doing so.

The two aviators then tried to find their way to the nearest army camp, but became confused. They walked and swam down the Rio Grande during Monday, Lieut. Peterson said, then hired Mexican burros after Peterson developed a fever. They had started for Candelaria when an armed Mexican overtook them and made them prisoners. They were unarmed.

They continued on their forced journey until Friday night when the bandits compelled the aviators to write messages demanding ransom and telling of the death threat.

The leader of the bandits, he said, had worked on a railroad in Kansas and lost a hand and a foot in an accident there.

The messages were sent to the

BROKE INTO CELLAR

This Time the "Culprit" Was Big Chief's Car, So No Arrests Were Made

The big Buick touring car of the Lowell police department, commonly referred to as "the chief's" car because it is often used by Supt. Welch—decided to investigate the contents of the police garage cellar early this morning; that is, it attempted to do so, although what interest the auto could possibly have in the contents of a cellar is unknown.

Anyway, one of the rear wheels of the big speedster broke through the floor of the garage early this morning, but the rest of the machine stayed on terra firma. The stunt didn't make much of a bit with the night officers on duty, and they showed their disapproval by going vigorously at the work of getting the machine whereto belonged, which task consumed several hours.

The car is now resting comfortably on the other side of the building, apparently none the worse for its experience.

MONEY BURIED IN HILL

Westford Boys Held in Arlington Robbery Case—Officers Recover $100

That he had stolen a pocket book containing $150 from an East Arlington store keeper last week, and afterwards buried the money in the side of a nearby hill was the accusation made by the police when the case of Fred A. Perkins, 17, of Westford was called in East Cambridge district court yesterday. Another Westford boy, William Scocorelli, said to be a been implicated in the affair, was charged with receiving stolen goods. Both cases were continued until Saturday for disposition.

According to the testimony of the Arlington police Perkins stole the pocket book while delivering goods to the store of P. A. Manderline in East Arlington, taking the money from a vest hanging in the rear of the store. When arrested later he is said by the police to have led the officers to the side of the hill where more than $100 was dug out of the ground.

BIG EGG SEIZURE

MADE AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 18.—Under a libel against the New England Cold Storage company of this city, and J. R. Poole company of Boston, U. S. Marshal Wilson seized 4571 cases of eggs at the New England company's plant yesterday. The charge is hoarding to obtain an excessive profit. This is the first seizure made in Maine under the hoarding law. The retail value of the eggs at present prices is $122,000.

80 TONS WAR FOOD

WORCESTER'S DEMAND

WORCESTER, Aug. 18.—The Worcester committee, appointed by Mayor P. G. Holmes to distribute army food went to Boston today and purchased 80 tons. This was decided at a meeting of the committee last night. The first 20 tons offered for sale in Worcester were disposed of within two hours. Three more stations will be opened for the sale of the food, which will reach here within a few days.

SLACKER'S LICENSE

BEVERLY, Aug. 18.—Declaring that men who did not find this country good enough to fight for should have no special privileges now, the board of aldermen last night voted to revoke the jitney license of Ernest. Izzo, who claimed exemption, when drafted, on the ground that he was an alien. He had been granted a license to operate a jitney between Beverly and Danvers. Someone raised the question of citizenship and then the facts relative to the draft were brought out. The vote was unanimous.

MARTIN BEATS FOX

Providence Boxer as Substitute Smears English Champ

Terry Martin of Providence, who defeated Eddie Foy of New York in the main bout at the outdoor show staged at Spaulding Park a week ago Saturday, substituted last night in Boston for Artie Root of Cleveland against Joey Fox, English champion, and gave the man from the British Isles a bad beating in 12 rounds. Because of a disagreement over the weight question Root would not fight. The betting was 100 to 15 on Fox and the short end boys collected several fat and wadded suits. (Tel.) Root, of Brooklyn and Johnny Clifton of New York fought a fast 12-round draw at New Bedford last night. Coogan took the lead in the ninth when he opened a cut over Clinton's right eye and the latter's lightning fast jabbing with his left hand in the last round earned him an even break.

GERMANY IS GRATEFUL

American Treatment of War Prisoners Commended in National Assembly

BERLIN, Monday, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—America has won the deep gratitude of Germany for her treatment of prisoners of war and her labors for their behalf in Siberia, declared Daniel Steucklen, member of the national assembly and imperial commissioner for war and civilian prisoners, today at a meeting of majority socialists protesting against the further retention of German prisoners in France.

The meeting was the first move by the socialists in the plan to bring women forward as an influence for the return of prisoners, it being felt that they can arouse more sympathy than men. Herr Steucklen blamed France for holding of these prisoners and said that the condition of the men there was bad. He said the men were treated well in Italy, but that in Japan they were miserable, owing to different customs, habits and methods of housing the prisoners there. He said that 200 Americans working in Siberia among German and Austrian prisoners are doing good work. The empire is spending seven millions marks per month for the maintenance of these prisoners, in addition to which huge sums are available from private charity.

Herr Steucklen condemned the Pan-

German for using the prisoner question merely as a political weapon against the government, calling them a "camarilla afraid of the light." The meeting concluded with a protest against Premier Clemenceau and French military authorities for holding German prisoners there.

THE STRAND THEATRE

The big features at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week are "Shadows of Suspicion" with Harold Lockwood in the title role and "The Hornet's Nest" with Earl Williams as the leading man. In addition to these two enjoyable plays there are also a series of very interesting pictures by the Universal Weekly as well as clever comedies of the Pathe variety. Excellent musical numbers also add greatly to the general enjoyment of the bill.

"Shadows of Suspicion" deals with the mystery of the secret service and combines a plot of intrigue and daring in which is woven an interesting romance. It deals with Cyril Hammerley, who has not enlisted in the army, who is not doing any government work and is being suspected of having accepted German money to betray the secrets of his country. It is a very hard task for the young man to have his friends believe that he is not the villain they think he is and it is only through a daring deed in which he is helped by the girl he loves that he succeeds in clearing the false suspicions that hang over his head. The play is a mighty interesting one.

"The Hornet's Nest" is a romance in which high finance and crooks have a conspicuous part. Colvin or Verna, a young man, engaged in charitable work, meets Muriel, who is seeking someone to help her out of her difficulties. The latter has an aunt who exercises evil over her cousin, Fletcher Hampstead, who with her, owns the estate, and who is very noticeable because of a prominent scar on his face, while Fletcher paints his own Later Fletcher robs Whitefield's safe and Colvin is held for the robbery. What follows is very exciting and interesting and is brought to a happy climax.

The soloist for the week is Ted Leary, who numbers are very enjoyable. The result of the pony contest as announced at last evening's performance is as follows: Walter Sheehan, 60,895; Robert Carr, Jr., 59,630; Peggy O'Reilly, 42,820. The other contestants in order are as follows: Sunshine McLoughry and the others, in order named: Jos. Boulger, John Lester, Herbert Crocker, Louise Hall, Gladys Pitts, Ellen Devine, Josephine Farrell, Carroll Smith, John Connor, Herbert Barnes and William O'Brien.

HUNS AND POLES FIGHT

Hoover Asks U. S. Officers to Pacify Silesia Now

WARSAW, Monday, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Hostilities broke out early this morning between the Germans and Poles on the southeastern Silesian frontier, the Germans suddenly attacking the Polish lines and occupying two villages. The Polish population drove them out and occupied two villages on the German side of the line of demarcation.

Herbert Hoover, chairman of the allied relief organization who is visiting Poland, immediately ordered American army officers in the area to co-operate in an effort to bring about a cessation of hostilities. Col. Good year was summoned from Vienna a few days ago, and Col. Ryan of the stand in the North station.

American contingent in Berlin was ordered to co-operate with him and with Col. Barber, who is in this city.

BUDAPEST, Saturday, Aug. 16.—Archduke Joseph agreed today to resign his place as temporary dictator of the Hungarian government because of the socialist's objections to him, but consented to remain at the head of the state for the time being when peasant leaders and members of the reactionary party protested. These leaders were said to have declared they would cause the food blockade against Budapest to be established unless the archduke continued to act as regent.

International at Detroit Gets
Warning From Counsel for

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—A sub-committee of the conference board of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway employees answered the trustees' letter by a statement that there had been no agreement by the union to abide by the decision of the war labor board. Failure of the trustees to bind themselves was responsible for this fact, it was said.

James H. Vahey, counsel for the carmen's union, today telegraphed international officers at Detroit that a critical situation existed on the Eastern company's system and that "action of some kind" was needed. It was reported that the telegram indicated that the men were likely to vote for a strike.

FOR NEW CATHOLIC
CHAPEL AT LAKEVIEW

According to reports the general committee in charge of the fund raising campaign for the erection of a new Catholic chapel at Lakeview is very active and their efforts are being crowned with success. Social events are being conducted every week in the chapel, while contests of all sorts are being organized.

Arrangements for the big concert to be held Sunday evening, Aug. 31 in the Lakeview theatre are progressing and the chairman of the concert committee, John F. Golden, stated this morning that the affair promises to be a notable one. Local and out-of-town talent have promised their support and it is expected the affair will eclipse anything of its kind ever conducted in this city or neighboring town.

The drawing contest for the gold watch donated by Willis J. Peilder and the $25 centre piece, the gift of Miss Catherine Burke of Collinsville, will be brought to a close at the concert at which time the names of the winners will be announced. This evening in the chapel there will be a whist party under the direction of Mrs. Michael Grady, while tomorrow evening the Misses Theriault will conduct a box party at the Willow Dale pavilion. The chairman of the general committee is John J. Flannery, while the secretary is Miss Elizabeth Sheehy.

MORE LOWELL MEN
ENLIST IN NAVY

Two more Lowell men for the U.S. North Dakota were forwarded from the local naval recruiting station today by Chief Cary. They were Leo Perrant, 1137 Lakeview avenue, and Warren Ashton, 60 Orleans street. Both enlisted as apprentice seamen.

A complete finger printing outfit has been received at the station, and in addition to getting a thorough examination by the physician from the North Dakota who is in this city this week, applicants for a card, on the big ocean greyhound will also be fingerprinted by Chief Cary, so that their identity can be established at any time.

BRITISH AND SOVIETS
HAVE NAVAL CLASH

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Monday, Aug. 18.—The Bolshevik battleship Andre-Pervosvan, the battle cruiser Petropavlovsk, a transport, and a guardship are reported today to have been sunk during an engagement with the British fleet in the Gulf of Finland on Sunday.

The British were said to have lost three motor boats and to have had eight officers and three men killed.

MOTORCYCLES FOR
POSTOFFICE USE

Three motor-cycles, with side car attachments are soon to be put in use at the local postoffice. One will be assigned to the parcel post department and the other two to rural routes. It is found efficient, it is probable that they will be used in night collections.

FIRE AT HAVRE DESTROYS GOODS
AND DAMAGES AMERICAN
TANKER

HAVRE, France, Aug. 15.—Fire which badly damaged the American tank steamer George G. Henry and destroyed merchandise on the docks valued at $50,000 francs today was caused by oil from the tanker catching fire when an unloading pipe broke. The burning oil flooded the pier to which the steamer was moored.

The George G. Henry, of 7000 gross tonnage, is owned by the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport company of Los Angeles. She left New York on August 2 loaded with oil.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday party was given last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hayden, 77 Linden street, in honor of their daughter, Miss Florence. The young lady received many attractive gifts, including a sapphire ring from her parents. Vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Miss Mary Burns, Miss Sadie Liggett, Lawrence Hayden, Eugene Higgins, William McGuire, Thomas Farley and James E. Donnelly. Refreshments were served.

DENIES HE KILLED WIDOW

Trial of Store Manager for Sensational Murder Starts
at Norfolk, Va.

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 19.—Testifying at his trial yesterday on a charge of having shot and killed Mrs. Jean Schwab, a young widow, on the night of April 23, Elmer D. Chapman, aged 21, assistant manager of the store at which the woman was employed, formerly of Maine, reiterated his original story that Mrs. Schwab had been slain by a negro highwayman. He testified he had known the young woman only 10 days and denied he had any reason to "put her out of the way."

Chapman said that on the night of the murder he and his companion were on a deserted stretch of street near an old cemetery when the negro sprang from behind some shrubbery and after demanding money, killed Mrs. Schwab and shot him in the hip. The prosecution alleged that Chapman had mistreated the woman and then to cover up his crime, had killed her, inflicted the wound on himself and told the story of the attack by the highwayman. A number of witnesses, including the city coroner, testified merely to the condition under which the body was found. The coroner said he had not made a microscopic examination of the body and that his superficial examination had shown nothing to indicate the woman had been mistreated before death.

CIVILIAN OFFICERS
CAN GO IN REGULARS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Emergency officers who served during the war with Germany and who still are in the service will be given first consideration in filling vacancies in the regular army, the war department announced today. Those who have been honorably discharged although expressing a preference for permanent service, will be the second class from which appointments will be made and those who did not ask to be retained will come next. The order is dependent upon necessary legislation being passed, the announcement said.

AIRSHIP MAY BE LOST
IN DESERT FLIGHT

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Monday, August 18.—N. news of the great French airplane Goliath, which left Mogador for Dakar on Saturday morning with eight passengers, has been received here, and there is much anxiety over the possible fate of the machine. In view of the solitude of the regions over which the airplane flew, however, it is premature to conclude that the machine has been wrecked.

Naval divisions here at Dakar have sent out well manned ships to scour the coast, but it will take several days to complete the search. The crew of the Goliath was provided with food and water sufficient for several days and while here, took on board arms and ammunition.

Mayor Thompson said that the city was only $48,000 from the debt limit and that he considered that as close as it would be advisable for the city to get. Any further reduction, he believed, would prove detrimental to the financial standing of the city.

Commissioner Donnelly wanted the matter deferred until Friday but his motion was defeated.

Stop Work On Sewer Jobs

Following the meeting Commissioner Murphy said that he would lay off 60 men of the sewer department this evening. The three big jobs that are under way at the present time and not yet completed, he said, were But-man road, John avenue and Burnside street, Fairgrove street and Shanul avenue, the latter three being all one big job. The commissioner has already been given $95,000 for sewers this year but he declares that the Varnum avenue sewer job will be the greater part of this amount and the fact that good weather enabled sewer work to be carried on right from the first of January instead of from the first of March as is usually the case, has resulted in the expenditure of an exceptionally large sum.

Today's action following closely on the heels of Commissioner Morse's reduction of the force of the water department by 70 men yesterday means that 130 municipal employees have been thrown out of work in the past two days.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10.25. Commissioner Murphy was absent but came in later.

Charles E. Cashin was granted permission to move two buildings, one in Columbia street and the other in Middlesex street, the necessary inspections having been made.

A communication from the United Irish societies of Lowell, signed by the secretary, John Barrett, was read, inviting members of the council to be present at a mass meeting to be held in Associate hall next Sunday evening to protest against certain clauses of the League of Nations draft. The city clerk was instructed to write a letter of acceptance.

The following gasoline petitions were held over for hearings on Sept. 2: A. J. Couture, 63 Branch street; Abraham Wolf, 122 Chelmsford street; Louis Bourdeau, 658 Broadway.

The favorable report of Commissioner Murphy and accompanying order on the petition of William F. Lane et al., that edgestones be laid on the westerly side of Georgia avenue were ordered to be in the city clerk's office for seven days.

The petition of A. H. Whitney et al. that a sidewalk be laid on the easterly side of Hatley street, was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Mayor Thompson was given permission to issue on the purchasing agent a requisition for three motorcycles for the police department, the two old ones now in the department to be given in exchange. The mayor explained that the depositions on fruit orchards in the outlying sections at this season of the year made it imperative that some sort of protection be given fruit owners and he deemed

THE APPLE OF HUSTON'S EYE

Mays became the apple of Huston's eye because the colonel saw a pennant for the Yankees with Mays pitching. Yet the pennant is no nearer than when Mays joined them. No matter who wins the argument it is going to cost the New York club a lot of money and trouble.

the purchase of motorcycles the most efficient way to do this as the number of men in the department did not warrant sending them to patrol outlying sections. The necessary permission was granted.

The Sewer Situation

Commissioner Murphy then introduced an order to borrow $25,000 for sewer construction, the same to be payable in 25 equal annual payments. The emergency clause was attached.

Mr. Murphy said that the reason the order was introduced was because of the demand for sewers. At the present time there are waiting for action enough sewer petitions to eat up $36,026, he said. He realized that considerable money had been spent on sewers this year, but there had been a great demand from property owners to relieve the unemployment situation here, the commissioner stated.

"We have had exceptionally good weather this year," he continued,

"right from the first of January, so that the sewer work which usually begins in March was started this year in January. Then, too, the board of health is complaining about many of the dry wells in the city and that is another factor to be taken into consideration."

The mayor said that there was no question about the necessity of sewer work but that it is always impossible to grant all the sewer petitions that come in during a single year. Some of them have to be over until the next year. He agreed that the council should do all in its power for the unemployed, but declared that Lowell had already made as good a showing in this matter as any other city. Besides, the new auditorium, new high school and First street highway projects were soon scheduled to start and these would take care of a lot of men. The proximity of the city to the debt limit must be taken into consideration, he added, 2, at 10 a. m.

At the present time, Lowell is only $15,300 from that limit and he was of the opinion that that is as near as it would be wise for the city to get.

Commissioner Murphy said that last week he had employed 134 men on sewer work, but this week the number had been reduced to 64. He had only a few hundred dollars of appropriation left, he said, and a number of bills had to be paid out of that.

There followed considerable discussion and finally Commissioner Donnelly moved that the matter be deferred until Friday. Commissioner Morse seconded the motion but it was defeated, 3 to 2. Commissioner Marchand moved that the order be amended to read $10,000, and this so was defeated. The mayor's motion was defeated. The mayor's motion was defeated. The mayor's motion was defeated.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. William E. Wood, general manager of the chain of shoe stores throughout New England, owned by Mrs. H. Morse, and Miss Katherine M. Tobin, of the school department, took place yesterday at St. Peter's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. D. J. Heffernan. The bride, Miss Mary E. Tobin, while the best man was Mr. Matthew M. Wood, a brother of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride, 52 Highland street, where the couple will make their home after an extended honeymoon trip.

No less than 15 baseball teams in this city are attempting to play ball on the commons on the North and South commons on Saturday afternoon, according to Supt. John W. full, normal profitable production waits on peace.

Entire World Awaits Peace Now

"Our military plans of course wait upon it. We cannot intelligently or wisely decide how large a naval or military training is to be until we have peace, not only but also until we know how peace is to be sustained, whether by arms of single nations or by the concert of all the great peoples. And there is more than that difficulty involved. The vast surplus properties of the army include, not food and clothing merely, whose sale will affect normal production, but great manufacturing establishments also which should be restored to their former uses, great stores of machine tools and all sorts of merchandise, which must lie idle until peace and military policy are definitely determined. By the same token there can be no properly studied nation budget until then."

"The nations that rally the treaty, such as Great Britain, Belgium and France will be in a position to lay their plans for controlling the markets of central Europe without competition from us if we do not presently act. We have no consular agents, no trade representatives there to look after our interests."

Affecting United States Industries

"There are large areas of Europe whose future will be uncertain and questionable until their people know the final settlements of peace and the forces which are to administer and sustain it. Without determination markets our production cannot proceed with intelligence or confidence. There can be no stabilization of wages because there can be no settled conditions of employment. There can be no easy or normal industrial credits, because there can be no confident or permanent revival of business."

"But I will not weary you with obvious examples. I will only venture to repeat that every element of normal life amongst us depends upon and awaits the ratification of the treaty of peace; and also that we cannot afford to lose a single summer's day by not doing all that we can to mitigate the winter's suffering, which unless we find means to prevent it, may prove disastrous to a large portion of the world and may, at its worst, bring upon Europe conditions even more terrible than those wrought by the war itself."

U. S. Alterations Accepted

"Nothing, I am led to believe, stands in the way of the ratification of the treaty except certain doubts with regard to the meaning and implication of certain articles of the covenant of the League of Nations, and I must frankly say that I am unable to understand why such doubts should be entertained. You will recall that when I had the pleasure of a conference with your committee and with the committee of the house of representatives on foreign affairs at the White House in March, last, the questions now most frequently asked about the League of Nations were all canvassed with a view to their immediate clarification. The covenant of the league was then in its first draft and subject to revision. It was pointed out that no express recognition was given to the Monroe Doctrine, that it was not expressly provided that the league should have no authority to act or to express a judgment on matters of domestic policy, that the right to withdraw from the league was not expressly recognized, and that the constitutional right of the congress to determine all questions of peace and war was not sufficiently safeguarded. On my return to Paris, all these matters were taken up again by the commission on the League of Nations and every suggestion of the United States was accepted.

Covenant Not Vague

"The view of the United States with regard to the questions I have mentioned, had in fact already been accepted by the commission and there was supposed to be nothing inconsistent with them in the draft of the covenant first adopted—the draft which was the subject of our discussion in March—but no objection was made to saying explicitly in the text what all had supposed to be implicit in it. There was absolutely no doubt as to the meaning of any one of the resulting provisions of the covenant in the minds of those who participated in drafting them, and I respectfully submit that there is nothing vague or doubtful in their wording."

Domestic Questions

"With regard to domestic questions, Article XVII of the covenant expressly provides that, if in case of any dispute arising between members of the league the matter involved is claimed by one of the parties and is found by the council to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the council shall so report, and shall make no recommendation as to its settlement! The United States was by no means the only government interested in the explicit adoption of this provision, and there is no doubt in the mind of any authoritative students of international law that such matters as immigration, tariffs and naturalization are incontestably domestic questions with which no international body could deal without express authority to do so. No enumeration of domestic questions was undertaken because to undertake it, even by sample, would have involved the danger of seeming to exclude those not mentioned."

States Can Withdraw

"The right of any sovereign state to withdraw had been taken for granted, but no objection was made to making it explicit. Indeed, so soon as the views expressed at the White House conference were laid before the commission, it was at once conceded that it was best not to leave the answer to so important a question to inference. No proposal was made to set up any tribunal to pass judgment upon the question whether a withdrawing nation had in fact fulfilled 'all its international obligations and all its obligations under the covenant.' It was recognized that that question must be left to be resolved by the conscience of the nation proposing to withdraw; and I must say that it did not seem to me worth while to propose that the article be made explicit because I knew that the United States would never itself propose to withdraw from the league if its conscience was not entirely clear as to the fulfillment of all its international obligations. It has never failed to fulfill them and never will.

Article X. Not Doubtful

"Article X. is in no respect of doubtful meaning when read in the light of the covenant as a whole. The council of the league can only 'advise upon' the means by which the obligations of that great article are to be given effect to. Unless the United States is a party to the policy or action in question, her own affirmative vote in the council is necessary before any advice can be given, for a unanimous vote of the council is required. If she is a party, the trouble is her own. And the unanimous vote of the council is only advice in any case."

"Each government is free to reject it if it pleases. Nothing could have been made more clear to the conference than the right of our congress under our constitution to exercise its independent judgment in all matters of peace and war. No attempt was made to question or limit that right. The United States will, indeed, undertake under Article X. to 'respect and preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league' and that engagement constitutes a very grave and solemn moral obligation. But it is a moral, not a legal obligation, and leaves our congress absolutely free to put its own interpretation upon it on all cases that call for action. It is binding in conscience only, not in law."

Endless Interpretations

"It has several times been suggested, in public debate and in private conference, that interpretations of the sense in which the United States accepts the engagements of the covenant should be embodied in the instrument of ratification. There can be no reasonable objection to such interpretations accompanying the act of ratification provided they do not form a part of the formal ratification itself. Most of the interpretations which have been suggested to me embody what seems to me the plain meaning of the instrument itself. But if such interpretations should constitute a part of the formal resolution of ratification long delays would be the inevitable consequence, inasmuch as all the many governments concerned would have to accept, in effect, the language of the treaty before ratification would be complete. The assent of the German assembly at Weimar would have to be obtained, among the rest, and I must frankly say that I could only with the greatest reluctance approach that assembly for permission to read the treaty as we understand it and as those who framed it quite certainly understood it."

"If the United States were to qualify the document in any way, moreover, I am confident from what I know of the many conferences and debates which accompanied the formulation of the treaty that our example would immediately be followed in many quarters, in some instances with very serious reservations, and that the meaning and operative force of the treaty would presently be clouded from one end of its clauses to the other. Pardon me, Mr. Chairman, if I have been entirely unreserved and plain spoken in speaking of the great matters we all have so much at heart. If excuse is needed, I trust that the critical situation of affairs may serve as my justification. The issues that manifestly hang upon the conclusions of the senate with regard to peace and upon the time of its action, are so grave and so clearly insusceptible of being thrust on one side or postponed that I have felt it necessary in the public interest to make this urgent plea and to make it as simple and as unreservedly as possible."

BAKER DEFENDS ARMY OF 576,000 MEN

WASHINGTON, August 19.—Sec. Baker defended yesterday before the senate sub-committee on military affairs his recommendation for an army of 576,000 men by saying that in view of the "disturbed conditions in the world" he did not wish the "responsibility" of asking for a small force.

Sec. Baker indicated several times that the bill as presented, including its provision for compulsory universal military training for 19-year-old youths, was that of military experts rather than his own, although it had his approval.

He said his own "guess" was that an army of 576,000 was perhaps somewhat larger than necessary, but that he did not wish to take the responsibility of opposing the opinion of the country's greatest military men.

Regarding the provision for maintenance of three divisions in the insular possessions, the secretary admitted that the force appeared to him somewhat large, and agreed to the suggestion of Senator Wadsworth of New York that native troops might be used to advantage. The senator had remarked that at present it seemed that every American soldier kept in the Philippines was there somewhat in the nature of a "hostage of faith."

The secretary also considered as worthy while a suggestion that a part of the youth of the country might be given the opportunity for naval training, possibly as a substitute for the training he otherwise would receive in the army.

Air Military Discussed

Questions offered the opportunity for securing Mr. Baker's opinion on the proposed air ministry. Senator New presented arguments for the separation of the military and aeronautics, but Sec. Baker was frank in his declaration of opinion that it would make for inefficiency. "Difficulty would be experienced," Mr. Baker said, in maintaining the proper co-ordination under separate heads, and if a more adequate air service is desired, he suggested it would be more practicable to utilize the existing military organization.

Another reason he urged for opposing a centralization of aviation was that it would tend to discourage competition in the development of aerial appliances. Aviation, he said, is yet so new that all the ingenuity and inventions that can be had are needed.

Advocate One Drill

He also explained the difficulty an air ministry would have in handling its pilots when separately trained, indicating the necessity from the point of view of the military man of having the airman so drilled with the army men that there would be the least possible chance of failure when it came to co-ordination.

The testimony developed that the United States now has 10,718 airplanes, of which, however, only 3325 are service planes. The major part of the present equipment now is obsolete, but, it was asserted by the secretary, the types are better than any in Europe.

A utilization of those types, coupled with our experience in production, would, he believed, serve to save much time if it should again become necessary to bring that branch of the service to a war basis.

The secretary said that if the government wished to develop the air industry, either for commerce or for war purposes, the solution was simple—merely spend the money to buy more planes.

PRIZE WINNERS

OF BABY SHOW

Alice Victoria Doyle of 285 Pawtucket street, aged nine months, and Marjory Ruth Hump of 41 Lupine road, aged six months, were awarded first and second prize, respectively, at the park department baby show held yesterday afternoon on the north common. The awards were made in accordance with a chart prepared by the government which showed just how heavy and how tall a child should be at various periods during his or her first year on earth. The awards were made by Harvey B. Greene of the park commission, the first prize being $5 in gold and the second $2.50. There were 123 entrants.

LONDON WOOL ACTIVE

LONDON, Monday, Aug. 18.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to $350 bales. There was a good demand from continental and American buyers and merinos advanced to 5 to 10 per cent, and fine crossbreds gained from 5 to 7 1/2 per cent.

Before taking your train home from Boston set The Sun at either newsstand in the North station.

LONG OPEN CAMPAIGN

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Richard H. Long, in a four-day series of rallies beginning today, will take up discussion of the outstanding issues upon which he is basing his campaign for the governorship as the democratic candidate. His campaign will centre in Greater Boston today, tomorrow and Thursday, proceeding to a tour of the Cape on Friday.

FRUIT EXCURSION

The Middlesex County Farm bureau is to conduct a fruit excursion for those interested in fruit cultivation through Middlesex county on Aug. 20 and a majority of the leading fruit farms of the county will be visited. The excursion will be made by automobile and those who go are expected to furnish their own machines as well as basket lunches. The tour will start at 10 a. m. from the Frost farm in Littleton and will end at the Ames Brook farm in East Sudbury. Representatives from Amherst and the state department of agriculture will be among those taking the trip.

WELCOME HOME RECEPTION

Another enthusiastic meeting of the general committee in charge of the welcome home celebration for the French-speaking soldiers and sailors of this city, which will be held Labor Day, was held last evening in C.M.A.C. hall with Chairman Joseph L. Lamoureux in the chair. Very interesting and encouraging comments were heard and it was announced that the committee had already raised $2000 in its campaign for funds. A cheque for $700 was received from St. Louis' parish. Considerable business was transacted.

PENNANT DAY comes but once month. On that day we mark our goods at prices that represent absolute savings. Prices are for that day only and are the lowest of the month.

Our August Pennant Day is our 68th. It will be one of the biggest Pennant Days in the history of the store and the following items will help make it so:

SIDE STREET ADVERTISERS

Strange as it may seem some business men in Lowell believe that because their places of business happen to be on side streets, it furnishes a valid reason why no good can accrue to them from advertising. They argue that readers of advertisements flock to the shopping center of the city and it is useless to advertise a store located outside the beaten path.

We believe this theory is fallacious. These are the times when the person with money to spend is willing to go to the place where the best value can be obtained for the money spent. Oftentimes being on a side street is no real drawback to a merchant when his rental is compared with that of a store on the main street. Taking this into consideration, we believe if the side street merchant will advertise his exact location and offer the necessary inducement he will reap the benefit in the long run. The side street merchant needs to advertise because he is a side street merchant and to get the most out of money spent for advertising, we suggest

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

When the people of this country were engaged in the fiercest of all wars, they were united and as a result, our armies and our navy very quickly forced Germany to sue for peace.

Peace came on November 11, 1918, but since that time this nation has had more real strife, more suffering than it had during the war. The union of forces that existed while we were at war seems to have been lost, and now the actual war with Germany is followed by conditions that border upon industrial warfare where only peace, good will and co-operation between employer and employee should exist. Strikes without number are declared for the most extravagant demands and there is no telling when it all will wind up. The railroad brotherhoods seem to set the pace for other organizations, and as a result, the systems of transportation are badly demoralized throughout the country.

The high cost of living is set down in justification for all the strikes in the land today; and yet the demands of the strikers be conceded, the cost of living will be pushed a notch higher. In quiet succession then would come other labor organizations, with similar demands so that the evil complained of would be increased rather than remedied by the action of the very people who suffer most from it.

It should be plain by this time that this general demand for increased wages will be of little use if each increase granted puts the cost of living still higher. The present mode of having wages chase the cost of living suggests the futility of the dog chasing his tail. It gets us no nearer to the solution of the real problems of the hour the chief of which are to check the depreciation of the dollar, to stabilize prices, to stop profiteering and to maintain industrial peace.

In this industrial disturbance the federal and state governments are face to face with the result of their own cowardice in not boldly dealing with these questions when the trouble first appeared. What the industrial situation demands is a compulsory arbitration law to settle all disputes in the operation of public service utilities.

With such a law, strikes in the public service could be prohibited or penalized as a crime against the sovereign people, calculated to impose hardship, loss and suffering upon defenseless people who have no part in the controversy. Such a law would deal equally with capital and labor, recognizing and sustaining the rights of both and at the same time, promoting the co-operation so essential to their mutual success. At a time when increased production is so very necessary to the needs of the people and to meeting the high cost of living, it is peculiarly unfortunate to have the transportation systems of the nation threatened with general strikes which would bring suffering upon every other class as well as the strikers themselves. The general strike as a means of tyrannical anarchy and so destructive of progress, business and even human life, that it must be met wherever attempted by the sternest power of the government. The general strike as a means of tying up all industry and overcoming the government, is the principal revolutionary measure in the constitution of the I. W. W. and those who advocate such measures thereby place just wide enough to allow the passage of a single car track and a continuously moving stream of traffic on either side. At the present time parking is allowed in Prescott street, 75 feet from either end, but this should not be allowed for a single second and just as long as it is tolerated traffic through this narrow passageway will be entirely out of the question.

Between the hours of 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. and 5 and 6:30 p. m. Central street on either side from Merrimack street to Tower's Corner should be closed as a parking area and warning signs should be placed at short intervals, telling of the laws governing that particular section. The fact that parking is now allowed along this street, makes for congestion, for moving vehicles follow street cars in the tracks and oftentimes an unbroken line of traffic extends from the junction of Central and Prescott streets to Warren street.

As a crowning feature a mounted traffic officer riding along Central, Prescott and Merrimack streets during so-called rush hours would be a distinct asset and in public service would more than repay whatever cost his outfit might bring to the city.

ANOTHER CAR STRIKE?

A general strike on the Eastern Massachusetts railway is threatened unless further concessions be made to meet the demands of the unions. The men are not satisfied with the 12 per cent increase awarded by the War Labor Board. This will give them 51 cents per hour, but they want 72 cents per hour. According to statements of some of the men they might compromise on 57 cents an hour, which would double the increase awarded by the War Labor Board.

The men of the system are influenced in a measure by the fact that the Boston Elevated is paying their men 62 cents an hour. While it is admitted that they have some grounds for dissatisfaction, the fact remains that in this state of industrial unrest, they would make a very grave mistake by going out on strike. Under the present method of conducting the Eastern Massachusetts system, the state is responsible for the operation of the road and it would have to meet whatever loss would result from a strike. In addition, the people who would have to pay the bills, would suffer incalculable loss and inconvenience. In spite of this, however, it is quite probable that if a strike should be declared there will be no hurry to force a settlement.

Doubtless the governor would interfere to bring about a settlement, even from political motives, but all over the system there would be such a rush to substitute jitney vehicles for the electric cars that within a few weeks the motor cars would prove so serviceable, that they would be permanently retained and patronized by the public in preference to the electric cars.

While the recent Lowell strike was in progress the street railway company had a demonstration of what the people can do by the free use of automobiles and jitties in the absence of car service. That strike taught the people how to get to beaches in big motor trucks, scores of which have been used, especially on Sundays, for the purpose of taking large numbers of people to these resorts at a moderate expense. Another strike in this locality would do more than anything else we can conceive of to kill the service; to eliminate some of the less popular routes and reduce the number of men employed.

For these reasons and many others that might be added, The Sun would respectfully advise the street railway men not to resort to a strike at this time. Their interests will be better served by further agitation for what they want, without resorting to the utterly unpopular method of enforcing their demands through a strike.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

With green corn advertised at 20 cents a dozen in many Lowell markets, one is forced to ante up 10 cents an ear in most of the chair lunches of the city, and the clerks don't even blush when they punch the ticket. Blueberry pie, too, will set one back 10 cents a cut, although the price of berries has dropped to 15 cents a quart or less in the stores. I have heard many people complain that there is more profiteering in the chair lunches than in any other places in the city. Certain it is that these establishments compare unfavorably for many articles with the charge in restaurants and hotels, too—in different sections of the city. Many hotels, I have found, that furnish white tablecloths, waiters and music, in the face of the reduction in profit caused by wartime prohibition, continue to charge less for the same amounts than the chair lunches which assert that they can feed at cheap prices because they do not have so much overhead expense. The happy days of free handouts are a thing of the past, too. A slice of cheese, which a few years ago would be handed out free with an order of apple pie, now costs five cents. All in all, the public seems to be getting it in the neck coming and going.

That baby show on the North common yesterday afternoon was productive of a lot of interesting incidents and the crowd of 500 who gathered despite the unpleasant weather found their journey to the common well worth the trouble. The North common is the centre of one of the city's most congested areas and the result was an unexpectedly large number of babies present to take part in the show. Usually an affair of this kind means a lot of "howling" on the part of the participants but in the hour or so that the writer was at the show yesterday not a cry was heard from the large number of youngsters congregated there. Somebody attributed this to the fact that the day was not warm and consequently there was nothing to annoy the youngsters.

WASHINGTON, (N.E.A.)—Curious visitors in the gallery of the house of representatives have asked if coolies have invaded the place. SEEN AND HEARD

Happiness is regulated by what a man is, not what he possesses.

How do you like this thought: Four months from today you will be doing Christmas shopping!

Isn't it about time the soda water tax was called off and the price of candy lowered?

Prospective brides and bridegrooms build air castles to the skies and then watch old H. C. of L. knock them down.

Has the government got any shoes or coal it would like to sell to a ready public? Both articles would be gobbled up as quickly as the canned stuff.

We know of one man who plans to make the following gifts to his four small sons: One load of wool, one ton of coal, one warm, heavy overcoat, size 10 and a 14-pound turkey.

Town Flivverless

There isn't an automobile owned in Pickett county, Tenn., and the natives still refer to them as "horseless carriages." It is hard to persuade some of them that there is such a thing as an automobile.

"If there is such a thing," replied one native, "it's an invention of the devil."—Exchange.

Lowell Pipers Went Big

The Lawrence Tribune says: Daley's Irish Bag Pipers from Lowell made a big hit the other night when they gave a splendid program for the members of the Friends of Irish Freedom. It was largely through the efforts of John Flaherty that they were secured for the evening and everyone present agreed that they lived up to all that John had predicted for them.

Bunions on Pay Check

Get ready for bunions on the pay envelope. Twenty dollar shoes this fall. Shoe foundry heads predict no pair of corn garages under 15 planks will be worth running down on the heels and the majority of foot satchels will kick the salary for 20 crimps. After a cow is all worn out of its hide, then we'll wear out two cramped portions of it at the rate of a cent a shuffle. Jitney a stub, wrinkled dime a scuff, until 20 washers' worth is worn down to give the toes a southern exposure. Imagine caroming a set of 20 easier foot stalls over the window sill to shut off a cat squawk. Still yet imagine in an outburst of wrath having to use a 20 inch toe rack to plant a kick. And oh, think of using a couple of 20 plug feet gloves as parking space for alien hoofs on crowded trolley chariots. Gonna be some kicks on those kicks.—Gene Ahern, N.E.A.

Making Himself

He looked at his job in a curious way. And I'll try to repeat what I once heard him say.
"Now here is a task I've been given to do. And what will be said when my labor is through?
I've the same plan as the man who goes to work with the tools of a carpenter and tools many poor men destroy. Good and bad work are done to the very same plan.
So the final result must depend on the man. And this thing when it's finished is going to be a positive mixture of metal and me.

"This thing will be useful and stand to the test. It into its making I've blended my best. If enough of myself I put into my task.
Who am I? The man who shall use it will ask. If I work with the metals and follow the plan. And shape it to size and then leave it my claim.
It won't hold together or bear with the strain. And I, not the product, shall carry the blame.
For back of the metal in this men shall see, In the way that I've shaped it a picture of me.

"My job is to labor in copper and brass To make certain things the inspectors will pass. And the product once finished is sent out to be. A perfect resemblance in metal of me.
If I've put into it just the best that I could, The article stands to the test and is good. And I share in the praise that its merit it may claim.
By stamping a piece of good work with my name, So the thing that I'm building of copper and brass. Isn't merely a piece the inspectors will pass.
I come to my task here whatever it be. With the notion that what I am making is me."

—Edgar A. Guest.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Largely Attended Meeting of Lowell Branch of American Legion—Drive for Members

Installation of the recently elected officers of Lowell post of the American Legion took place at the Community Service club on Dutton street last evening when fully 300 members of the organization met in regular session. Fifty new members were enrolled in the local post at the meeting, and plans were made for a campaign to bring in all former service men in the city.

The officers installed were: Post commander, Walter J. Scannell; senior vice post commander, John O'Rourke; junior vice post commander, Joseph L. Sullivan; adjutant, James P. McCready; quartermaster, Eli B. Hart; historian, Winfred C. MacBrayne; officer of the day, John Leavitt; officer of the guard, John J. Graves, and sentinel, John M. King.

Post Commander Scannell called to order at 8 o'clock. A motion was made that a committee of three be appointed to investigate complaints of alleged unfair treatment of ex-service men who are searching for employment. And the following were appointed: Chairman, George Tey; Daniel L. Gray and Stephen C. Hession. In this connection Post Commander Scannell said that the legion will make every effort to see that its members are not forced to remain out of employment, and it was afterwards voted to send a communication to the Atherthaw Construction company, which was said to be about to commence the construction of a large store house for one of the local cotton mills, asking the company to place as many ex-service men as possible during the work.

Plans for a city-wide drive for new members were discussed in detail and Adj. McCready laid emphasis on the fact that the only way to line up the 7000 or more ex-service men of Lowell in the post was by each member doing his bit and bringing the men he knew to the meetings. Co-operation is what is needed, said the adjutant, and if the members would all put forth their best efforts he believed that they would send the Lowell post across with flying colors.

AUTOS DAMAGED IN CRASH

A Buick touring car driven by Nell Moynihan was sideswiped by another machine, whose ownership is unknown, shortly after 10 o'clock last night at a point in Gorham street about a mile beyond the Edison cemetery. The left mud guard and running board of Moynihan's car were ripped off, while the other machine dropped a front wheel. Although there were several occupants of the cars, no one was injured.

JOE WILHOIT BOUGHT BY RED SOX

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 19.—Manager Ed. Barrow of the Boston Americans today purchased Outfielder Joe Wilhoit from the St. Louis Cardinals for $10,000. Wilhoit, recently picked up by the Red Sox, goes to Wichita and will stay there the balance of the season, not retaining the property of the Boston team.

"Bouncing" Joe Wilhoit used to play right field for the Braves. Before that he was the hitting phenom of the Pacific Coast league. He could neither hit nor field for the Braves, however, and was let out to Pittsburgh, where he remained for a brief spell before going to the Giants. McGraw turned him back to the minors last winter in the deal whereby Catcher Smith went to New York from Rochester.

Wilhoit's hitting this year for Wichita has been tremendous. He has hit safely in 55 consecutive games, and leads his league in hitting by several miles. Several big league teams have been bidding for him, but Barrow's offer was the best.

Big Bill James, obtained by the Red Sox from Detroit for the waiver price, has been transferred to the White Sox. Manager Gleason evidently thinking he needs all the pitching in sight with Eddie Cicotte getting hit so viciously in several recent games.

CHICK EVANS FAVORED TO RETAIN TITLE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 19.—Charles (Chick) Evans of Bridgeport, present champion, was the favorite to win the National Amateur golf championship at the Oakmont Country club today when the first round of match play started. Evans brought $2600 in $20,000 pools at the club. Robert Gardner, of Chicago, sold for $2300; Francis Oulmet of Woodland $2000, and Jerome Travers of New York $1500.

The cast had the largest representation in the match play, while the west depended on the champion and Gardner. The south's hopes rest on "Baby" Jones of Atlanta, and Nelson Whitney of New Orleans. Public links players hoped that either James Manion or Richard Hockenberry of St. Louis would win.

Although weak from illness and actually tottering in his tracks at the finish, Francis Oulmet of Woodland played through the 36 holes yesterday and qualified with a score of 166. Over the last few holes, Oulmet fought on his nerve alone and two doctors rushed to his side as he holed on at the 18th. His weakness caused topped tee shots at the 12th, 14th and 15th holes; but he stuck to his clubs like a gamester.

KLOBY-SHEVLIN BOUT

Boston Boxer Wants Major Biddle to Name Referee in Lawrence Fight

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Everything's all set for the army-navy clash in boxing at Lawrence on Saturday between Eddie Shevlin and Young Kloby. The match, which will be the top line act at the carnival of boxing at O'Sullivan park, will not only bring the army and navy welterweight champs together for a decision, but will also settle the New England title for that weight.

The promoters of the match have named Scotty McElroy of Lawrence for the third man, and Shevlin, for the benefit of his friends and those that are backing him to win, is keen on having anybody but McElroy to referee the match. McElroy's friendship for Kloby, and the fact that he is a native son, like Kloby himself, makes it O. K. for the Lawrence fight bugs, but is distasteful for the others. For that reason, Shevlin wants another man.

The importance of the army-navy clash is sufficient to warrant the hiring of a real big gun for refereeing. Shevlin stated yesterday he was in favor of having anybody but McElroy, but that he would be glad to have the choice turned over to Major Biddle of Philadelphia. Major Biddle to pick the official. Shevlin feels that inasmuch as the clash is an army-navy affair, it should be up to army-navy officials to have charge of the refereeing—at least so far as naming the third man goes. This is more than a fair proposition and would please all New England fans.

KIRBY ALUMNI MEMBER OF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC BOARD

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Gustavus Town Kirby, former president of the American Athletic union, and prominent in Columbia university athletics in the 30's, has been appointed by President Nicholas Murray Butler an alumni member of the university athletic committee, after being recommended by a letter vote of the alumni. Mr. Kirby, who has been vice president of the American Olympic committee since 1907, was a member of the American committee of honor at the Olympic games in London and represented the United States at the Stockholm Olympic games.

DARTMOUTH TO HAVE WESTERN STAFF

HANOVER, N. H., Aug. 19.—Dartmouth will have an all-western coaching staff for its football team this fall. Jess Hawley, halfback on the 1907 and 1908 teams, has consented to give part of his time, at least, in an advisory capacity to Head Coach C. W. "Patty" Spears and P. A. "Duke" Jewell will serve as assistant coach.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The managers of the Boston & Maine car shop and St. Peter's A.A. teams made arrangements last night to play a twilight game on the South common Thursday evening. The game, which will start at 6:15 o'clock, probably will be limited to seven innings by agreement. The St. Peter's were beaten twice by the B. & M. and have one victory over the B. & M. and for this reason Thursday night's game should be fast and close.

The Cross street athletic and social club wants a game with any 9-year-old team for tomorrow or Saturday on the Gas Co. field. Answer through this paper.

The C.M.A.C. moved out the Saco-Lowell night school campus by the score of 4 to 3. The game was well played before a large crowd. Mr. Marcotte of the C.M.A.C. is anxious to meet any teams who have laid premature claims to the city championship title and further states that the B. & M. crowd has refused to relinquish their cast series game, the count now standing even, Stephen, with one game to the credit of each club.

The Abbott Worsted Co. team swamped the Forge Village A.C. last Saturday afternoon, 13 to 4. The A.W.C. plays the T. club of North Billerica at Grantville next Saturday.

CLINTON COMES HERE FOR BOUT

Johnny Clinton, who fought a fast 12-round draw with Mel Coogan at New Bedford last night, came to Lowell today to rest up and then resume training tomorrow for his bout here on Friday night with Eddie Moy of Allentown. Mr. Clinton was up a fine exhibition in the Whale town, and made a big hit with the fans. In meeting Moy he will tackle a fast and hard hitting opponent. Moy and Clinton were scheduled to meet here about a month ago but the match was called off when Clinton met with an injury while training. At the time both men expected the bout to have at it, and the coming set-to is looked upon as a high class attraction. The pair met in Boston some time ago and their engagement was one of the most sensational ever staged in the Hub. Moy's manager has sent word that his boy will be here on Thursday and will engage in a light workout at the Crescent rink on Friday afternoon.

The bout will be staged by the Crescent A. A. and already many requests for reservations have been received. In addition to the Moy-Clinton match there will be three other good bouts. Arthur Schick, the 125-pound amateur champion of New York, will appear in the first bout at the Crescent A. A. Friday night. His opponent has not yet been selected. In the first preliminary Young Diamond and Kid Corrigan, both of Lowell, will meet. While in the other six round even Jim Demas, of the Hellenic club and Happy Conley, will perform.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Improved conditions make it possible to start the tennis matches in the opening round of the singles on the turf of the Meadow club here today. The featured contests bring R. V. Thomas of the Australian team, against Gerald Davidson, Jr., of the best of the eastern juniors; C. B. Doyle of Washington, D. C. against H. G. Kelleher of Seattle. Wash. and George Helm, captain of the Harvard team, against Jim Taylor of Brooklyn, national junior title holder, and a Princeton student.

NEW CATCHING MARK

Ray Schalk Works in 100th Game of Season

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Ray Schalk, catcher for the Chicago American League club, yesterday set a new mark when he went behind the plate in the game with Philadelphia. It was the 100th game he had caught this season and marked the seventh consecutive season that he has accomplished this unusual feat. Schalk's nearest rival was George Gibson, former catcher for the Pittsburgh National league team, for which he caught 100 games for six seasons, but not consecutively.

The Call-em

No real sportsman can but admire the indomitable spirit of Francis Oulmet, conqueror of Ray and Vardon, when he continued to play in the national amateur golf championship despite the advice of physicians that he should not venture out of doors. With a fever and poisoned tonsils, the Woodland marvel insisted Sunday that he would be "out there" on Monday if he was strong enough to swing a club. He came and did what it meant to withdraw from match play, both from his own standpoint and the effect it would have on the class of the club. Therefore, his most commendable, even though slightly dangerous, stand.

Cuba's World Beater

It will be some time before the republic of Cuba will be shorn of its one world champion in the realm of sport. Every year and sometimes two or three times during the 12 months the little country sends its world beater, a Cuban, to knock out dead around the checker boards. At the present time he leads in the international victory tournament at Hastings, London, six games won and none lost and undoubtedly will continue to keep them up in the king row to the consternation of all opponents. He's a bear on this methodical moving stuff and although his chosen sport full isn't thrill us to the point of nervousness, nevertheless, we unhesitatingly hand him the palm for patience and a clever use of the "old herry."

Travelling Out Knowledge

The following has been received and duly considered:
The Call-em:
Please let me know through your interesting column when Willie Ritchie lost the lightweight championship and where. Also what is the fastest time recorded for 100 yard dash.
Thanking you, etc. J. F. S.

Mr. Ritchie let the title slip away from him on points in a 2 round bout with Frank White in London on July 7, 1914. Eugene Corri, referee.
Nine and three-fifths seconds is generally accepted as the fastest time for 100 yards, although one, Minoru Fujii of Tokyo university, is said to have traveled the century on a grass track in 9.2-5 seconds in 1902. The time of 9.2-5 has been made by several different runners, amateur and professional alike. Alvah T. Meyer holds the indoor record of 9.4-5 seconds.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong
Scott Perry, at one time considered the brightest pitching prospect in the major leagues and over whom the Boston Braves and Philadelphia Athletics in 1912, drew-out controversy regards ownership, has jumped the Athletics and joined the Franklin, Pa. semi-pro club. He explains his exodus from under the big tent by saying "no more big league stuff for me" and let's it go at that. It probably means his departure for good, a fact which is to be regretted, for he undoubtedly would have developed into a consistent star.

A Fast-Stepping Veteran
One of the most remarkable performances ever recorded on record was seen at Readville last Friday when Hawkins won an amateur race in 2:15.4. This horse was foaled in 1901 and is, therefore, 18 years old. His made a record of 2:15.4 over the track at Dover, N. H., in 1908. Goldsmith Maid is the only horse that ever trotted faster than this gelding at the same age. She was 17 when she made the world's record to 2:14 while she trotted in 2:14 when 18, 2:14 when 19 and 2:14 at 20 years.

CHALLENGE ROUND OF TENNIS DOUBLES

NEWTON, Aug. 19.—Both the title holders and the contestants were eager to play the challenge round of the national lawn tennis doubles championship tournament at the Longwood Cricket club today. Postponement of the nation yesterday because of rain and unfavorable forecasts for today's weather, caused the players, William T. Tilden, 2nd, and Vincent Richards, the present champions, and the Australian rivals Norman E. Brookes and Gerald L. Patterson, considerable anxiety.

All four players are entered in the national singles tournament at Forest Hills, N. Y., next week, and desires a few days of special preparation for the new game. Tilden and Richards have also expressed themselves as being particularly anxious to visit their respective homes in Philadelphia and Yonkers, N. Y., before going to Forest Hills.

CHANGES IN POLO

Playing Managers to be Shifted This Season

But Duggan will play with the Lawrence roller polo team this season. He was reserved by Lawrence at the meeting held in Providence, Quilley and Abbott were also reserved by Lawrence. Lowell reserved Hart, Harkins and Griffith. Worcester reserved Higgins, Taylor and Donnelly. New Bedford reserved Hays, Conley and Gardner. Providence, Williams, Thompson and Muirhead; Salem, Kid Williams, Alexander and Purcell; Brockton and River are added to league. Fred Jean will handle Fall River and Barney Doherty may go to Brockton with Frank Hardy taking Providence or Salem. Duke Perkins will probably manage New Bedford.

AKRON, O., August 19.—If Bob Martin, champion of allied fighting men, is ready to box, his home town is ready to watch him. Akron wants Martin to make his professional ring debut here for the town is proud of the soldier fighting man who vanquished all heavyweight boxers of the allied ranks. Akron fans believe in a match with the allied champ and so Martin will be the recognized heavyweight champion of the world.

Such a bout would command attention. Service men from far and near would want to see the two big soldiers in the ring. This card should attract a capacity house Labor Day or any other date.

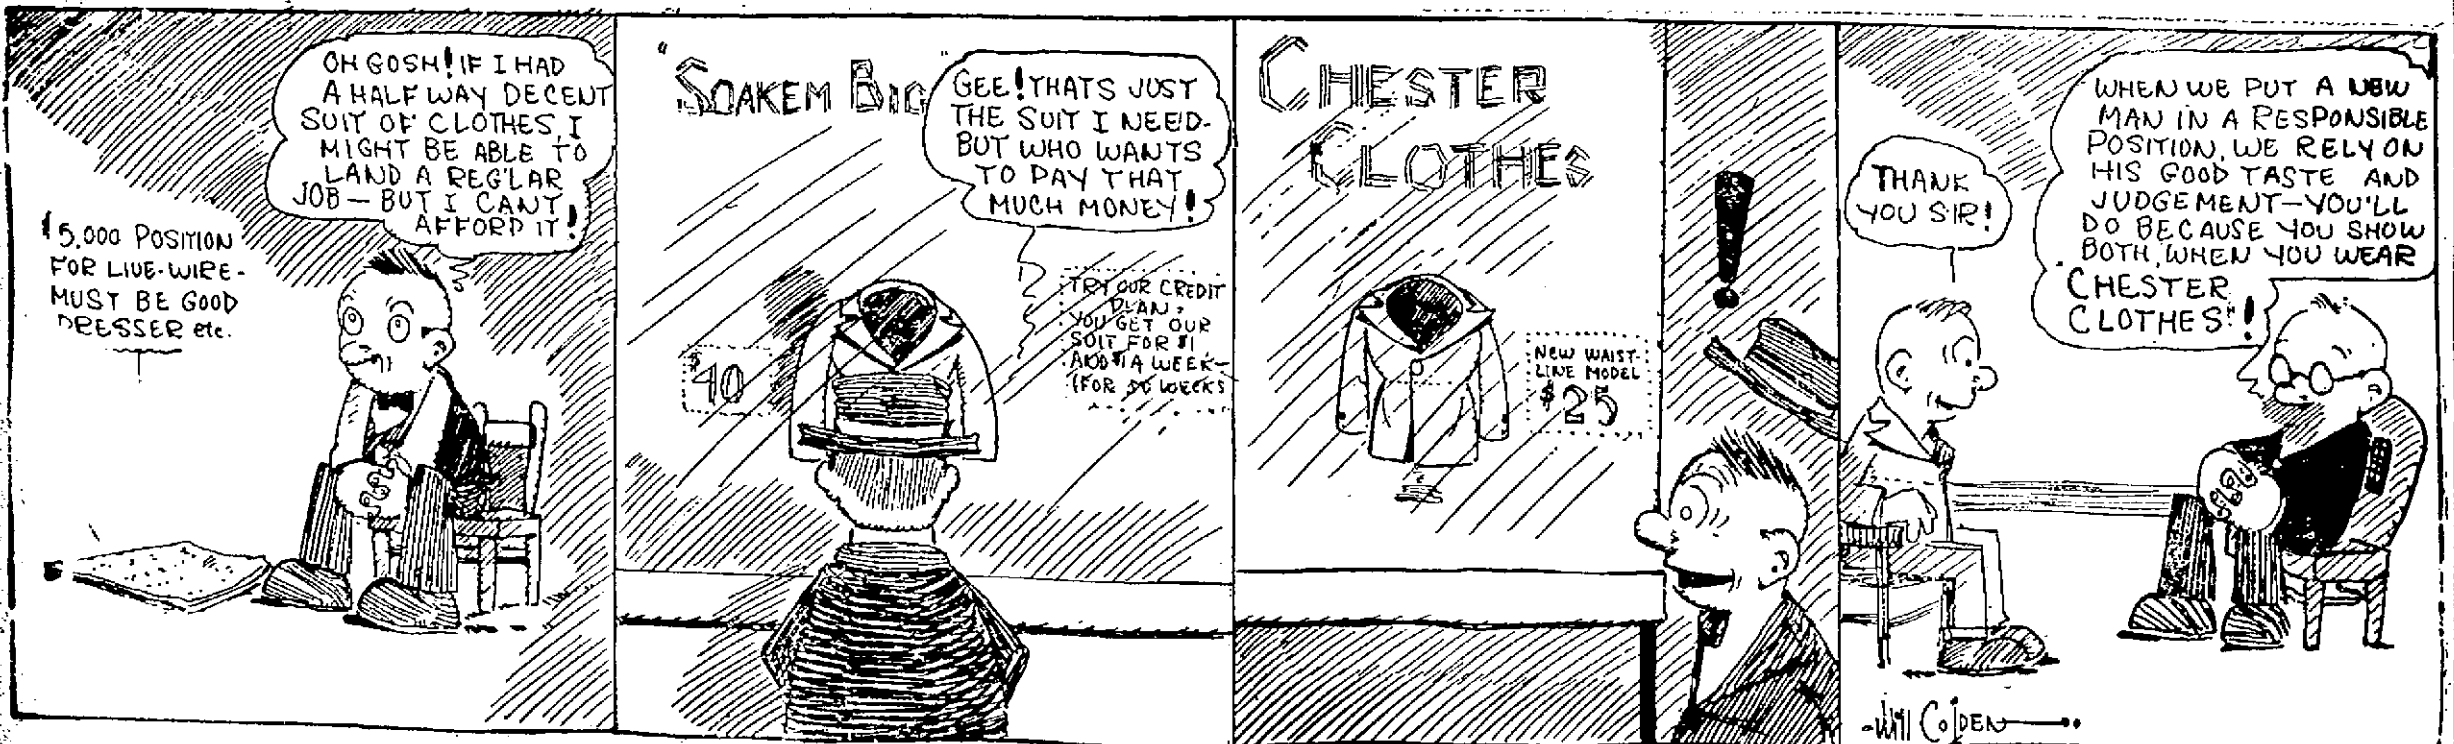

Owing to the short space of time intervening it is hardly probable a match for Martin can be arranged by Labor Day but the opportunity awaits Martin as soon as he is ready and there is little doubt but that the soldier boy will go in for the professional game.

Fans here would like to see Martin matched with Captain Bob Roper, another army man, who has made his way to the front in the heavyweight ranks. Captain Roper did not see service overseas but "knocked" everything cold on this side. He claims a 10-round decision victory over Jack Johnson in Mexico. He is anxious for a match with the allied champ and so are the fans countrywide.

CROWNLESS BUT WELL CARED FOR

Most Delightful Spots in Delightful Land Held Down by Royal Refugees

Hosts of Servants and Plenty to Eat and Drink—They Should Worry

BY HAROLD E. BECHTOL
European Manager of N.E.A.
ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 19.—Switzerland, the asylum of dethroned kings, subjectless rulers and blue-blooded refugees, has more royal inmates than ever before.

Almost every week a new one sneaks across the border into exile. Many are living incognito.

The Swiss say more than half the dozens of former German and Austrian kings are losing about somewhere.

Some are standing on the roofs crying "Pity us!"

Some are dissipating in luxurious places on money they never did anything to earn.

The royal asylum is taking on the aspect of a permanent institution with regular boarders.

Between drinks, ex-royalty is reconciling itself to a long stay in the Alps.

As King Constantine admits, the king business is lean pickings.

Constantine, Ludwig, Karl and all the lesser royal lights can't understand it. They are subjectless, countryless. Nobody wants to be ruled any more.

But don't waste any tears—None of them is hard up or friendless. The leavings of royalty seem to have a way of taking care of their own. Anyhow—

These exiles live in the most delightful spots of delightful Switzerland.

They have more and better food, in one meal, than the average American or Swiss has in two.

Keep Loneliness Away
They are not lonely—most of them have their entire families with them; others have their friends along.

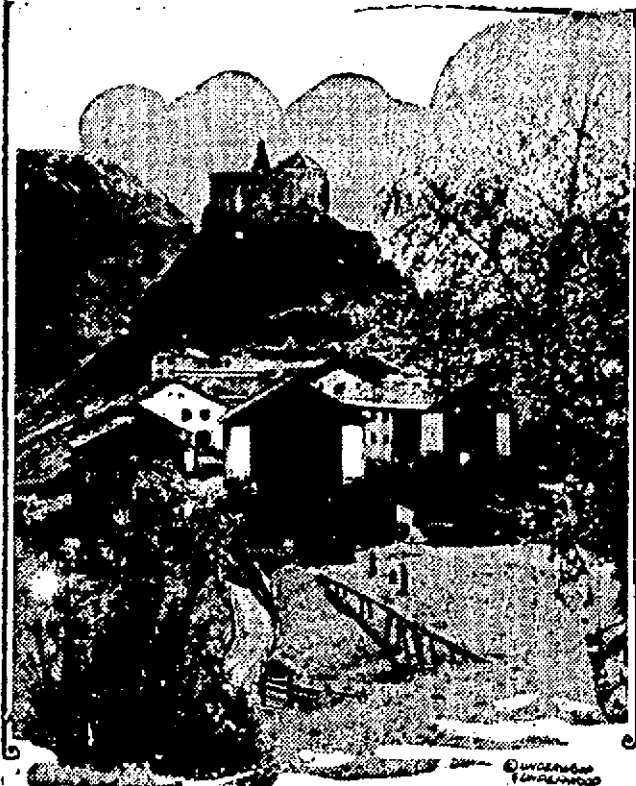

They are all surrounded by admiring hangers-on who sympathize, flatter and cheer them up.

They have at call anywhere from six to sixty servants apiece.

Those who don't live in mountain castles or lakefront bungalows hidden away on grounds worth $50,000 an acre, live in beautiful suites of luxurious tourist hotels.

At Territet, on the eastern point of Lake Geneva, I found the hotels full of German and Austrian royalty, living like millionaires and dissipating nightly. They sit about the magnificent lobbies and smoking rooms until well toward morning, drinking heavily and sympathizing with each other.

Often they drink so much they have to be assisted to their rooms. One woman, until recently a reigning duchess, I had pointed out to me three times as the cutup of the party who drank so much she had to be carried to her apartment.

Ludwig of Bavaria, on the other hand, lives quietly, though magni-

Poor tired feet -

POUNDING nail-studded leather heels on hard pavements all day robs you of energy you need. Every step is a shock not only to your feet, but also to your entire system. Every shock consumes your energy and produces fatigue. It adds just that much more to the strain of your daily life.

You can protect yourself from these useless shocks. You can cushion your feet against these daily jolts and jars. O'Sullivan's Heels absorb the shocks that tire you out. They relieve the jolts and jars that make a burden of walking.

It is not just the rubber that gives O'Sullivan's Heels their springiness and wearing qualities.

Rubber, as you know, can be made hard and brittle as in fountain pens, or soft and crumbly as in pencil erasers. To secure the resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are "compounded" with the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then

"cured" or baked under high pressure.

By this special process the greatest resiliency is combined with the utmost durability.

It is this special process that has, since the making of the first rubber heel, established O'Sullivan's Heels as the standard of rubber heel quality.

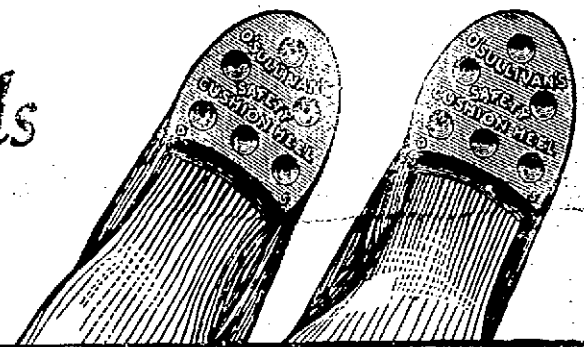

O'Sullivan's Heels are guaranteed to wear twice as long as ordinary rubber heels; and will outlast three pairs of leather heels.

Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes.

O'Sullivan's Heels are furnished in black, white or tan; for men, women and children. Specify O'Sullivan's Heels, and be sure that you get O'Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes.

hard straits.

Karl of Austria came fleeing into Switzerland several months ago with his wife Zita, three children and an army of servants, escorted by Colonel Strutt of the British army.

The Swiss government didn't know whether to admit him or not, fearing at first the opinion of the allied world. But Swiss officials say Britain intervened, said his life was in danger and got him in.

Has Two Retreats

Part of the time he lives in state at Wartegg castle, part of the time in a beautiful yellow mansion on the shore of Lake Geneva, about 20 miles from Geneva. He is there now, hunting, fishing, walking and climbing. A few days ago I went out to his mansion from Geneva. He wouldn't be interviewed but his aides poured out propaganda. He was such a good democratic king, they said, it seemed a pity nobody would let him rule them.

They complained that he was confined in hunting to this one estate. They had been notified, they said, that Paderewski's chalet was adjoining and that if he shot anything on the piano's grounds it might mean some kind of a war between Poland and Austria. And just because of his love for Austria, he wouldn't get her in any trouble even if he did have to stay on his own grounds to shoot.

The amusing thing about it is that somebody is kidding him. Paderewski's home, I found when I passed it later, is miles up the lake. Several estates separate it from Karl's exile home.

In company with other correspondents, I talked with ex-King Constantine for half an hour in his luxurious suite at the Hotel National at Lucerne.

His attitude was that kings no longer have any power to do harm, so why should not people be nice, and keep them, and provide funds and thrones, and let them run their courts.

Asked about the king business now, he replied that divine right was an "exploded idea."

"I never did believe in divine right."

An off day

You may have an off day occasionally. It may follow eating too heartily, or may come from overwork, or perhaps from exposure when fatigued. A dull, heavy, tired feeling in the morning, a headache or a cold in the early stages; these symptoms unfit a person for doing his best, and may lead to illness if neglected.

There is a remedy, safe, sure and reliable, which should be in every household for just such emergencies, the true and original "L. F." Atwood's Medicine. It may be safely used by persons of any age, from children to those well advanced in years. The best way to keep well is to prevent illness, and a teaspoonful or two of this old standard remedy will often prevent serious illness if used at the beginning of trouble.

"I find the 'L. F.' Atwood's Medicine a sure relief for colds, headaches. We have used it in our family for forty years, and would not get along without it." Miss A. E. Leonard, Laconia, N. H. ## WESTFORD HERO RETURNS

Sergt. Bicknell, Wins D.S.C.,
Croix de Guerre and Military Medal

Wearing a Croix de Guerre Distinguished Service Cross and Military Medal, awarded in recognition of his achievement when he rescued a captured machine gun crew single handed, several of whom he killed or took prisoner, Sergt. Leroy Bicknell, of Main street, Westford, arrived in New York City yesterday on the steamer Agamemnon.

Sergt. Bicknell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bicknell, of Westford, and enlisted in June, 1917. He went overseas the following winter, where he was assigned to Co. D, Ninth Machine Gun Battalion. He saw service on several fronts, but came through it all without a scratch. His parents received a letter from him two weeks ago from Germany, in which he wrote that he was in the best of health and expected to be home soon. Sergt. Bicknell is 25 years of age.

PERSHING HONORED BY KING OF ROME

ROME, Aug. 19.—Gen. John J. Pershing and his party arrived here yesterday morning at 9 o'clock ready to begin his visit of three days. The American commander-in-chief on his arrival was greeted at the station by Peter Augustus Jay, the American charge d'affaires, Italian officers representing King Victor Emmanuel, and Lieut. Gen. Albrici, the war minister.

After introductions Gen. Pershing inspected the guard of honor which was drawn up in the station square, consisting of a company of infantry. Gen. Pershing complimented the commander of the guard on the fine appearance of the men.

He was then conducted to waiting automobiles in which he and his staff were driven to the Piazza dell'Indipendenza, where he was presented to the king. Heartiest greetings were exchanged.

King Victor Emmanuel conferred on Gen. Pershing the Grand Cross of the Military Order of Savoy, the highest Italian military honor. The only other men to receive this decoration have been Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Haig, Gen. Diaz and Gen. Cadorna.

DELAY IN BONUS CHECK

Treasurer Says Efforts
Non-Resident Service Men to Get Money Retards Work

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 19.—Efforts of non-resident service men to secure the $100 bonus given by Massachusetts to her sons who were enrolled during the war in the military and naval branches are one of the reasons for the seemingly apparent slowness in distributing the gratuities.

This was the statement made yesterday by State Treasurer Charles L. Burrill in discussing the work of paying out the $20,000,000 of the people's money under the bonus act.

"Hundreds of letters are coming from men scattered throughout a large number of states who claiming their legal residence to be Massachusetts are putting in their applications for the money," said Mr. Burrill. "Before we will pay out a cent, however, we are going to see to it that all of the applicants in such cases were residents of the state when they were inducted into service. If they are not then it is up to their own states to pay them. If such a law be upon the local statutes."

The great amount of work incident to determining the status of out-of-state service men has retarded the progress in paying off those who it is known are entitled to the bonus. Voluntary correspondence has been carried on with local officials in such states as Missouri, Louisiana, Minnesota and other far distant localities in tracing down the legality of claims coming from those districts.

"All this of necessity requires time," said Mr. Burrill. "It is imperative, however, that none of the money shall go to those not entitled to it, for if this should develop an injustice would be done to many here in our own state. The money of the people must be safeguarded. The work of giving it out may be slow, but it is sure."

The order in giving out the checks will be governed by the date in filing application. Men who filed on the opening day will be given priority, while those who delayed must await until the preceding applicants have been disposed of.

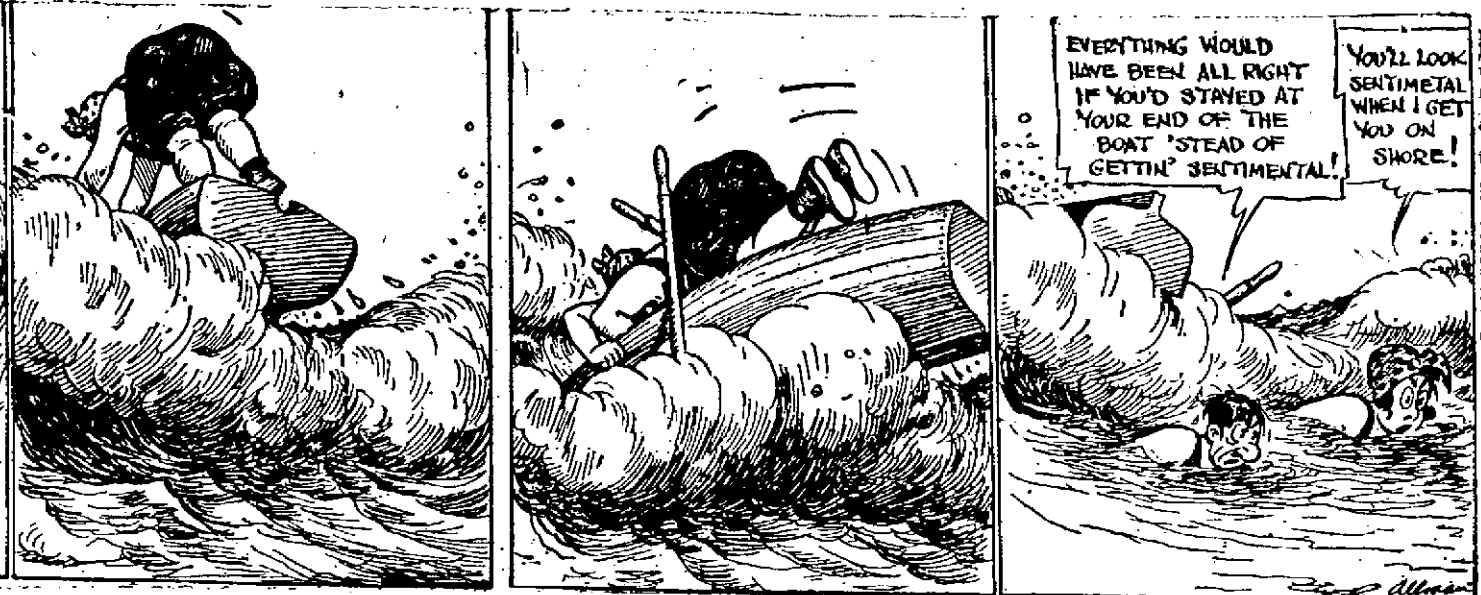

Some complaints have been voiced by expectant applicants who have not received their checks on noting that companions in the service have been allotted them. "Other fellows are getting them; why aren't we?" usually expresses this thought. On examination, however, it will be found that they filed their applications at a later date than those to whom the checks have been sent.

The alphabetical order will not be put into effect in making the distribution. If this were done, it is pointed out, an injustice would be done to those men who were energetic enough to file their applications at the earliest possible date. It is a case of first come, first served.

Payments can be made but once a week on account of the law which requires that all outlays of public money shall first be passed upon by the executive council. That body meets on Wednesdays. Warrants for the week's financial allotments are then passed upon and approved, whereupon the state treasurer can then distribute the money.

Why Will Women
Be So Wretched?

WHY will they let Anæmia gradually wear away their health and strength when they can overcome this dangerous malady with RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women?

SO many women are not actually ill enough to remain in bed, yet are utterly miserable. They are Anæmic—that is, their blood is poor and thin; and this condition is ruining their health.

THE Anæmic woman, with her headaches, her morbidness, her lack of energy and ambition, is not doing her duty to herself or to her family.

THE cause of a great majority of such cases is starved blood. What is needed is a blood food like RED PILLS.

THE blood must be fed; the red corpuscles in the blood must be increased. You must make the blood pure and rich by means of RED PILLS, so that the blood itself will overcome the evil effects of Anæmia.

RED PILLS will make you feel and look and act like a new woman. They overcome paleness and thinness. They strengthen the nerves, restore the appetite, take away headaches and backaches, build up vitality and bodily vigor.

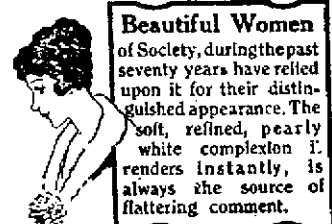

MRS. N. LEMIEUX, 43 Lafayette, Plattsburg, N.Y., says: "When I was a young girl I was always very weak, without courage and feeling depressed. I was suffering from headaches, pains in the limbs and specially in my back. While on a visit to Montreal, I was advised to try the RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. I did so and it was not long before I began to feel much better in many ways. Since that time I have been married, and I still use them whenever I find that I need a good tonic to build me up and restore my strength and vitality."

CAUTION.—The formula of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women was first discovered in Paris, in the year of 1870, by a famous French specialist. They have been used by French women ever since. Look on the signature of the "SOCIÉTÉ CHIMIQUE FRANÇAISE AMÉRICAINE", and a serial number on each box. RED PILLS are never sold in bulk; only in boxes, 50 cents, or 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of price, by the Franco-American Chemical Company Limited, 212 Milk Street, Boston, Mass. U.S.

applicants receiving their gratuities filed out before the 15th the number lies in the limited office room in the state house available for the use of the scores of clerks working on the distribution. Were larger quarters available, it was said, more expedition could be secured. None are available at the capital as all the rooms in the buildings are now occupied.

A large number of faulty applications have been received. These have caused no little delay in handling the work. Before those who filed them can secure the bonus it will be necessary that new papers be drawn up. Neglect in not having the applicants sworn to by a justice of the peace is the principal reason for this faultiness.

All applications filed with the state treasurer up to July 18 have been properly recorded and indexed, so that the applicants to that date will receive their money within a comparatively short time now. As the first blanks were distributed early in the month and as thousands of them were

An attached request that it be read by the presidents of the 15 local unions at special meetings to be called tomorrow evening for the purpose of accepting or rejecting the recent 12 per cent. award. Although officers of the Lowell union have not received official instructions from the joint conference board to call a meeting for tomorrow night, Pres. Powers said this morning that doubtless one will be held.

Pres. Powers did not wish to make any premature statements regarding the letter or the probable sense of the meeting, other than to say its purpose was one of consideration, that the men were extremely dissatisfied with the award and that a vote would probably be taken to accept or reject. When asked if rejection meant a strike, he said "that would not necessarily follow" and when questioned as to other alternatives, he replied that the men first probably would go back to the company for another increase.

The flat statement made by the trustees in making public their intention to stand by the award, reflects their stand in case of a strike. Union leaders in Boston last night felt confident that the men will remain at work pending the decision arrived at at those special meetings, but actually look for a suspension of work as the ultimate result. There is a general feeling that the men will vote to strike and allow

PHOSPHATE STRENGTHENS WEAK NERVES

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Strengthen Weak Nerves and Increase Strength and Vigor.

According to a noted French Scientist, the most effective remedy for nervousness, insomnia and ailments due to depleted nerve force, is a form of organic phosphate known among druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate.

It is described as a substance which is similar in composition to the phosphorus naturally found in brain and nerve cells and, being easily and quickly assimilated, the work of creating nerve force, strength and vigor begins immediately it is taken into the human system.

There are many reports of astonishing results from its use, some showing remarkable improvement even in stubborn cases of long standing nerve weakness. As there are many kinds of phosphates, care should be exercised to procure the genuine Bitro-Phosphate as sold by A. W. Dow in Lowell and all good druggists.

The company and riding public 36 hours in which to prepare for the stopping of the service.

Pres. Powers and the other heads of the various unions when they address the special meetings, will read the letter of the trustees and simply place the situation before the members and other than to tell them that the joint conference board is unanimous against accepting the award, will make no recommendations.

A meeting of the sub-committees of the joint conference board is being held today at the Quincy House in Boston to arrange for a meeting of the full board tomorrow, at which instructions will be issued for the calling of the special meetings.

The award of 12 per cent. over which so much dissatisfaction has arisen and which is the pivot upon which the threatened strike revolves, fell short of the terms of the recent award in the case of the employees of the Boston Elevated Railway, obtained by independent arbitration and which employees of the Eastern Massachusetts had expected to be equalled in their case.

The letter of the trustees to the men follows:

"To the Members of Locals 174, 235, 238, 240, 242, 245, 249, 253, 261, 270, 280, 373, 473, 503, 561.

Dear Sirs: At your meeting Wednesday night you are going to announce to 1,500,000 car riders whether or not you believe in arbitration.

The only question properly before you should be—Do we intend to remain true to our solemn agreement to abide by our arbitration award?

At the written request of our joint conference board your wage case was taken before the war labor board, the trustees were asked by the joint conference board to agree to a joint submission, and the trustees did so.

What could be fairer than such a course?

If arbitration awards are going to be cast aside with impunity, of what use are they?

For years organized labor has struggled to obtain rightful recognition through arbitration. Now that this long and weary battle has been won, we cannot believe that you men intend to tear down the structure built by such painful effort.

With arbitration agreements flouted and the sacredness of the solemn promise gone between employer and employee, the industrial world would be headed toward disaster.

The public trustees have obeyed all arbitration awards, even when they believed that the decisions were against the weight of evidence.

Without hesitation they reinstated a Lawrence motorman who was suspended on the charge of alleged intoxication. They also countermanded an order directing that the photographs of employees, paid for by the company, must appear on free passes.

The public trustees and the union cannot consider only themselves in this matter. Digging and greater than either the company or its employees is the travelling public.

Our patrons have the right to expect service, and it is our joint duty to furnish it.

But this cannot be done if either of us whenever we are dissatisfied with an arbitration award, forthwith proceed to violate its terms and tie up our lines.

Public sympathy is never with the party to a labor dispute which deliberately breaks its word and tramples upon arbitration agreements.

The public trustees intend to stand firmly by the national war labor board's wage arbitration award, by which the public must pay $1,000,000 more in wages this year than our men.

We call upon every fair minded employee to co-operate with us in protecting the public from such an outrage as the willful repudiation of the award.

Yours very truly,

Arrives in Rome

Max of Baden is reliably stated to have arrived in haste one night recently, in a motorboat that brought him across Lake Constance. But he has also kept out of sight. He is expected almost any day at his old favorite haunt, a mountain hotel near St. Moritz.

Alphonso, the infant of Spain, lives here in Zurich, in a boarding house! But the "boarding house" is a mansion overlooking the city, with beautiful gardens and high walls.

The Swiss say he is in Switzerland arranging investments for the king of Spain against the day when he too may be an ex-king in exile in the royal asylum.

Alphonso's wife, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, is a first cousin of almost every king and ex-king in Europe. Her friends say she used to weep and cry: "Why doesn't someone stop this terrible war? What am I to do? I love my people on both sides."

Alphonso is a kodak fiend and a crack aviator. He runs about Zurich bareheaded and rides up and down to his "boarding house" in a nickel-plated, public funder.

Reports say Bethmann-Hollweg is soon coming to live in his castle on the edge of Lake Thun, near Interlaken. Scheldemann, since his government refused to sign the peace treaty, resigned, and has been in retirement in Zurich and Lugano.

But so far, only one ruler with a job—if he may be called a ruler—has appeared. He's the prince counselor of Holland.

And he picked for his vacation—Zermatt, one of the few stops in the "world's playground" where there is no royal refuge!

The "ex's" seem to have the season cornered.

Ludwig's daughter, Princess Hildegard, is with him to see that no discomforts or loneliness come his way.

Troops Cross Border to Get Bandits

Baker Orders U. S. Forces Into Mexico to Run Down Outlaws

Once more troops of the United States have invaded a foreign country and simultaneously it has to be recorded that the United States army again has to invade Mexico in pursuit of outlaws and bandits the government of Mexico cannot or will not, try to capture.

The specific military unit entering Mexico today was the 5th United States Cavalry. The cavalrymen crossed the border near Candelaria, Texas, at 6:40 a. m. Presumably by the time these lines are written the cavalry regiment is quite a few miles across the border. The wonderful efficiency of the army's general corps is testified to by the fact that this noon American afternoon papers received news direct from the headquarters of the American punitive expedition, the news coming to Marfa, Texas, by army field telephone and thence to Candelaria.

That the present and perhaps history making military exploit is no

hastily decided upon plan is seen by the fact that when Secretary of War Baker was shown the news despatch stating American troops had entered Mexico this forenoon he smiled his satisfaction and said that the colonel of the 5th Cavalry troops had only awaited the safe arrival in Texas of Aviators Davis and Peterson. Mr. Baker certified the expedition was being conducted with the full knowledge and approval of the war department. He said further information on this subject would not be forthcoming until he received further word from the border, possibly not until official messages had been received from the commander of the 5th Cavalry.

Lieuts. H. G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis, one a Californian and the other a Minnesotan, did not hesitate to immediately start back into Mexico, following their safe deliverance from the bandits early today in the course of which they escaped after paying the bandits only half of the stipulated ransom money, in the capacity of guides. Men of observation and highly efficient officers, they should be of great aid to the leaders of the punitive expedition in hunting down the Mexican bandits.

While the long column of cavalrymen with the regimental equipment of wireless, telephone lines and supply trains of motor trucks and mules, wound snappily towards the other side of the Rio Grande, American army aviators soared overhead constantly ahead of the column on scout duty and constantly sending back telephone and wireless reports of the outlook ahead.

It was a business-like looking expedition when this invader of old Mexico started on its mission of upholding the law and its departure had been evidently unhampered by the United States waiting in Carranza's ante room, asking the Mexican government if Uncle Sam could please go and hunt down the naughty outlaws.

60 MORE CITY EMPLOYEES GO

Commissioner Murphy to Drop Sewer Dept. Workers This Evening

Action Follows Council's Refusal to Grant Loan of $25,000—Will Stop Work

Another big curtailment of municipal employment will go into effect this evening when Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy will notify 60 employees of the sewer department that owing to the failure of the municipal council to give him money at its meeting this morning, he will have to discontinue their services at once and will have to stop work on three big sewer jobs.

Murphy's Ultimatum

The commissioner asked the council to borrow $25,000 for sewers, but this was opposed and on motion of Commissioner George E. Marchand the amount was reduced to $10,000, but this was also defeated. Mayor Thompson and Commissioners Morse and Donnelly voted against it. Just before the vote was put, Commissioner Murphy delivered an ultimatum to members of the council that unless he was given the money he would have to stop sewer work this evening as he had only a

Wilson Tells Committee

History Made at White House as Senators Discuss Treaty—Progress Waits on Passage—Delay Menaces Our Foreign Trade—Domestic Affairs Not Involved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Under conditions without precedent in the history of American treaty making, President Wilson and the senate foreign relations committee, arranged to meet in the Blue room of the White House today, to talk over the treaty with Germany and its League of Nations covenant.

The meeting established a new milestone in the trend toward publicity in treaty consideration. Expert stenographers had been provided to turn out for the public in short relays a word-for-word record of all that transpired.

It was the first time, also that representatives of the senate, discussing foreign affairs, with the other branch of the treaty-making power, could question at the same time the head of the delegation which negotiated the treaty under discussion. The president sat in the conference rather as a responsible delegate to Versailles than as the head of the national government.

Although Mr. Wilson himself discussed the first draft of the league covenant with the committee at the famous White House dinner of last March, senators said there was no exact parallel for today's formal questioning of a chief executive on a treaty actually before the committee for ratification. The nearest approach, they said, had been the action of President Washington in going before the senate itself in executive session to discuss questions involved in the treaties with the Indians.

More than one of the witnesses questioned by the committee, included Secretary Lansing, have declared the president personally negotiated details of the League of Nations covenant and the Shantung provision and that he alone of the American delegates, could give some of the information desired.

President Wilson began his conference with the senate foreign relations committee at the White House today with an opening statement on the peace treaty and the League of Nations. He said:

"Mr. Chairman: I am sincerely glad that the committee should have responded in this way to my intimation that I would like to be of service to it. I welcome the opportunity for a frank and full interchange of views.

"I hope too, that this conference will serve to expedite your consideration of the treaty of peace. I beg that you will pardon and indulge me if

HIGH LIGHTS OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S TREATY MESSAGE

Replying to Senator Fall, who suggested that as Germany was not a member of the League of Nations, amendments to the league covenant would not be submitted to her, and she would not have to give her consent, the president said:

"I will admit that that point had not occurred to me. No, she would not."

The much discussed article 10, the president told the senators, was not of doubtful interpretation when read in connection with the whole covenant. The council, he said, could only "advise" and as its action must be unanimous, the affirmative vote of the United States would be necessary to question affecting it.

Article 16, the president said, provided that where there is a dispute found to be solely within the jurisdiction of one of the parties under international law, the league council shall so report and make no recommendation for its settlement. Immigration, tariffs and the like, the president said, clearly came under that provision.

President Wilson told the foreign relations committee at the outset of his conference today that he could see no "reasonable objection" to interpretations of how the United States accepts the League of Nations provided such interpretations did not form a part of the formal ratification itself.

If interpretations were part of the formal ratification, the president contended, long delays would follow as other governments would have to "accept in effect the language of the senate as the language of the treaty before ratification would be complete." Most of the interpretations, the president said, seemed to him to suggest the "plain meaning of the instrument itself."

The president told the committee the league council would have "nothing whatever" to do with deciding whether the United States had fulfilled its obligations in case of withdrawal from the league.

"Article X seems to me to constitute the very backbone of the whole covenant. Without it the league would be hardly more than an industrial debating society."

The president said the United States would have "complete freedom of choice as to the application of force" in carrying out Article 10, of the league covenant.

The proposed treaty by which the United States would go to the aid of France in event of an unprovoked attack by Germany is not in conflict with the constitution, in the opinion of the senate judiciary sub-committee appointed to consider the question.

Discussing Article 11, under which the league could take any action "deemed appropriate" in case war occurred or was threatened, the president said the action contemplated also would rest entirely on a moral obligation.

The president intimated that the League of Nations would prevent Japan from assuming any complete sovereignty over Shantung.

I again urge that practically the whole task of bringing the country back to normal conditions of life and industry waits on the decision of the senate with regard to the terms of the peace.

Nation's Crisis Demands Action

"I venture thus again to urge my advice that the action of the senate with regard to the treaty be taken at the earliest practicable moment because the problems with which we are face to face in the readjustment of our national life are of the most pressing and critical character, will require for their proper solution the most intimate and disinterested cooperation of all parties and all interests, and cannot be postponed without manifest peril to our people and to all the national advantages we hold most dear. May I mention a few of the matters which cannot be handled with intelligence until the country knows the character of the peace it is to have? I do so only by a very few examples.

"The copper mines of Montana and Alaska, for example, are being kept open and in operation only at a great cost and loss, in part upon borrowed money; the zinc mines of Missouri, Tennessee and Wisconsin are being operated at about one-half their capacity; the lead of Idaho, Illinois and Missouri reaches only a portion of its former market; there is an immediate need for cotton baling and also for lubricating oil—which cannot be met all because the channels of trade are barred by war when there is no war. The same is true of raw cotton, of which the central empire alone formerly purchased nearly four million bales, and these are only examples.

NO DECISION IN INJUNCTION CASE

The injunction proceedings brought by the Mawhinney Shoe Co., better known as the Federal Shoe Co., against officials and members of the Allied Shoe Workers' union of this city, will go before a master. This decision was reached at a hearing held in the court in equity in Boston this morning. Justice Lawton.

Farley & Tierney represented the shoe company, while D. J. Donahue was counsel for the shoe workers. When the hearing was called before Justice Lawton the counsel agreed to complete their pleadings and present them to a master, who will be appointed later by the court.

Mr. Donahue will complete his pleading on the Tuesday after Labor day and then the hearing will be resumed. Meantime the picketing will go on under the peaceful picketing act.

The injunction proceedings are a result of the shoe workers' strike, which has been in effect in some of the local shoe industries for the past three weeks, and were started by the company in an endeavor to have the members of the union restrained from doing picket duty around the plant of the company.

No injunction was granted.

HUGE STORE OF FOOD IN HUB

Federal Jury to Get Evidence

District Attorney's Men Gathered

Report Shows no Excuse for Shortage or High Prices in New England Cities

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—District Attorney Pelletier today announced that investigators had discovered more than five million pounds of sugar in storage at the Mystic Terminal and Railroad Warehouse Co.'s warehouse.

Millions of pounds of butter and cheese, and 14,000,000 dozen of eggs also have been found in warehouses here by agents of the department of justice, it is announced. Seizure of some of the great stocks of food is said to be contemplated by the federal officials.

Evidence of the discoveries is to be presented to a federal grand jury which was convened today for a special session of inquiry into high prices and shortages of foodstuffs.

Inquiry into the large stocks of food found here developed, according to federal agents, that virtually all export orders had been filled and that the supplies on hand were for domestic use.

More than 17,000,000 pounds of butter was found in two cold storage plants, 3,500,000 pounds more than these plants had on hand a year ago. An aggregate of 4,000,000 pounds of cheese has been located, 1,000,000 pounds more than was held a year ago.

The grand jury of Suffolk county today listened to more evidence as to

LODGE WILL SPEED TREATY

White House Talk Marked by Spirit of Co-operation and Frankness

Wilson Tells Bay State Senator Europe Waits for Action by Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Following the president's having delivered his statement Senator Lodge arose and said:

"Mr. President, so far as I am personally concerned—and I think I represent perhaps the majority of the committee in that respect—we have no thought of entering upon arguments as to interpretations or points of that character; but the committee was very desirous of getting information on certain points which seem not clear and on which they thought information would be of value to have in consideration of the treaty which they, I think I may say for myself and others, desire to hasten in every possible way.

"Your reference to the necessity of action leads me to ask one question. If we have to restore peace to the world, it is necessary, I assume, that there should be treaties with Austria, Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria. Those treaties are at more or less connected with the treaty with Germany. The question I should like to ask is what the prospects are of receiving these treaties for action."

The president: "I think it is very good, sir, and so far as I can judge from the contents of the despatches from my colleagues on the other side of the water, the chief delay is due to the uncertainty as to what is to happen to this treaty. This treaty is a model of the others. I saw enough of the others before I left Paris to know that they are being framed upon the same set of principles and that the treaty with Germany is the model. I think that is the chief element of delay, sir."

AD. LODGE

"This was followed by a long and protracted discussion between the president and Senators Lodge and Borah and other senators. Investigation as to the sources for material upon which the League of Nations covenant is based brought out the information that President Wilson had deeply studied the plan evolved by General Smuts of South Africa and had in fact at one time re-written the Smuts plan and tried to improve it. It developed that a British committee headed by a Mr. Phillimore, an international law authority, had submitted a plan for a League of Nations.

The president, in answer to a question

U. S. AIRMEN TELL ABOUT CAPTURE

Found Themselves in Mexico—Outlaw Takes Them as They Hunt for Camp

Bandit Chief Once Worked in Kansas—Army Captain Saves $7500

MARFA, Tex., Aug. 19.—Lieuts. H. G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis, aviators of the United States army, held captive for more than a week by Mexican bandits, who demanded a ransom of $15,000, were rescued early this morning by Captain Matlack of the Eighth cavalry and are safe in American territory.

Story of Airmen's Adventure

The aviators landed on the American side of the river, Lieut. Peterson said. Upon their arrival at Candelaria, a week ago Sunday, their engine developed trouble and they were forced to land, smashing their landing gear and fuselage in doing so.

The two aviators then tried to find their way to the nearest army camp, but became confused. They walked and swam down the Rio Grande during Monday, Lieut. Peterson said, then hired Mexican burros after Peterson developed a fever. They had started for Candelaria when an armed Mexican overtook them and made them prisoners. They were unharmed.

They continued on their forced journey until Friday night when the bandits compelled the aviators to write messages demanding ransom and telling of the death threat.

The leader of the bandits, he said, had worked on a railroad in Kansas and lost a hand and a foot in an accident there.

The messages were sent to the

Gen. Purenda May Warn Federals to Aid U. S. Troops in Bandit Hunt

MARFA, Tex., Aug. 19.—Col. Langhorne sent a message to General Antonio Purenda, commander of the Ojinaga forces, through the Mexican consul at Presidio, Tex., notifying Purenda of the punitive expedition, so the Mexican general would notify his troops in the field to prevent a possible clash between Carranza troops and American cavalry.

American troops of the Eighth cavalry, with aviators flying bombing planes acting as scouts ahead of the columns, swept across the Mexican border early today as a punitive expedition in pursuit of the bandit band under Jesus Renteria, who held the American army aviators, Peterson and Davis, prisoners in Mexico it was announced at military headquarters here today.

The troops are supported by an adequate communication line, pack trains carrying the field wireless for use when out of touch with the aviators, who are scouting the entire Ojinaga district for the bandits.

MONEY-BURIED IN HILL

Westford Boys Held in Arlington Robbery Case—Officers Recover $100

That he had stolen a pocket book containing $150 from an East Arlington store keeper last week, and afterwards buried the money in the side of a nearby hill was the accusation made by the police when the case of Fred A. Perkins, 17, of Westford was called in East Cambridge district court yesterday. Another Westford boy, William Scovelis, said to have been implicated in the affair, was charged with receiving stolen goods. Both cases were continued until Saturday for disposition.

According to the testimony of the Arlington police Perkins stole the pocket book while delivering goods to the store of P. A. Manderino in East Arlington, taking the money from a vest hanging in the rear of the store. When arrested later he is said by the police to have led the officers to the side of the hill where more than $100 was dug out of the ground.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 19.—Under a libel against the New England Cold Storage company of this city, and J. R. Poole company of Boston, U. S. Marshal Wilson seized 4671 cases of eggs at the New England company's plant yesterday. The charge is hoarding to obtain an excessive profit. This is the first seizure made in Maine under the hoarding law. The retail value of the eggs at present prices is $122,000.

BEVERLY, Aug. 18.—Declaring that men who did not find this country good enough to fight for should have no special privilege now, the board of aldermen last night voted to revoke the jitney license of Ernest Izzo, who claimed exemption, when drafted, on the ground that he was an alien. He had been granted a license to operate a jitney between Beverly and Danvers. Someone raised the question of citizenship and then the facts relative to the draft were brought out. The vote was unanimous.

MARTIN BEATS FOX

Providence Boxer as Substitute Smears English Champ

Terry Martin of Providence, who defeated Eddie Fay of New York in the main bout at the outdoor show staged at Spaulding Park a week ago Saturday, substituted last night in Boston for Artie Root of Cleveland against Joey Fox, English champion, and gave the man from the British Isles a bad licking in 13 rounds. Because of a disagreement over the weight question Root would not fight. The betting was 100 to 15 on Fox and the short end boys collected several fall and winter suits. Mel Coogan of Brooklyn and Johnny Clinton of New York fought a fast 12-round draw at New Bedford last night. Coogan took the lead in the ninth when he opened a cut over Clinton's right eye, but the latter's lightning fast jabbing with his left hand in the last round earned him an even break.

GERMANY IS GRATEFUL

American Treatment of War Prisoners Commended in National Assembly

BERLIN, Monday, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—America has won the deep gratitude of Germany for her treatment of prisoners of war and her labors for their behalf in Siberia, declared Daniel Steucklen, member of the national assembly and imperial commissioner for war and civilian prisoners, today at a meeting of majority socialists protesting against the further retention of German prisoners in France.

The meeting was the first move by the socialists in the plan to bring women forward as an influence for the return of prisoners, it being felt that they can arouse more sympathy than men. Herr Steucklen blamed France for holding of these prisoners and said that the condition of the men there was bad. He said the men were treated well in Italy, but that in Japan they were miserable, owing to housing customs, habits and methods of the prisoners there. He said that 200 Americans working in Siberia among German and Austrian prisoners are doing good work. The empire is spending seven millions marks per month for the maintenance of these prisoners, in addition to which huge sums are available from private charity. Herr Steucklen condemned the Pan-

German for using the prisoner question merely as a political weapon against the government, calling them a "camarilla afraid of the light." The meeting concluded with a protest against Premier Clemenceau and French military authorities for holding German prisoners there.

THE STRAND THEATRE

The big features at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week are "Shadows of Suspicion" with Harold Lockwood in the title role and "The Hornet's Nest" with Earl Williams as the leading man. In addition to these two enjoyable plays there are also a series of very interesting pictures by the Universal Weekly as well as clever comedies of the Pathe variety. Excellent musical numbers also add greatly to the general enjoyment of the bill.

"Shadows of Suspicion" deals with the mystery of the secret service and combines a plot of intrigue and daring in which is woven an interesting romance. It deals with Cyril Hinnersley, who has not enlisted in the army, who is not doing any government work and is being suspected of having accepted German money to betray the secrets of his country. It is a very hard task for the young man to have his friends believe that he is not the villain they think he is and it is only through a daring deed in which he is helped by the girl he loves that he succeeds in clearing the false suspicions that hang over his head. The play is a mighty interesting one.

"The Hornet's Nest" is a romance in which high finance and crooks have a conspicuous part. Colvin or Verna, a young man, engaged in charitable work, meets Muriel, who is seeking someone to help her out of her difficulties. The latter has an aunt who exercises evil over her cousin, Fletcher Hampstead, who with her, owns the estate, and who is very noticeable because of a prominent scar on his face, while Fletcher paints his out later Fletcher robs Whitefield's safe and Colvin is held for the robbery. What follows is very exciting and

Hoover Asks U. S. Officers to Pacify Silesia Now

WARSAW, Monday, Aug. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Hostilities broke out early this morning between the Germans and Poles on the southwestern Silesian frontier, the Germans suddenly attacking the Polish lines and occupying two villages. The Polish population drove them out and occupied two villages on the German side of the line of demarcation. Herbert Hoover, chairman of the allied relief organization who is visiting Poland, immediately ordered American army officers in the area to co-operate in an effort to bring about a cessation of hostilities. Col. Good-year was summoned from Vienna by Mr. Hoover, and Col. Ryan of the American contingent in Berlin was ordered to co-operate with him and with Col. Barber, who is in this city.

ARCHDUKE QUILTS AS HUNGARY'S DICTATOR

BUDAPEST, Saturday, Aug. 16.—Archduke Joseph agreed today to resign his place as temporary dictator of the Hungarian government because of the socialist's objections to him, but consented to remain at the head of the state for the time being when peasant leaders and members of the reactionary party protested. These leaders were said to have declared they would cause the food blockade against Budapest to be established unless the archduke continued to act as regent.

VAHEY FEARS CAR STRIKE

International at Detroit Gets
Warning From Counsel for Bay State Carmen

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—A sub-committee of the conference board of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway employees answered the trustees' letter by a statement that there had been no agreement by the union to abide by the decision of the war labor board. Failure of the trustees to bind themselves was responsible for this fact, it was said.

James H. Vahey, counsel for the carmen's union, today telegraphed international officers at Detroit that a critical situation existed on the Eastern company's system and that "action of some kind" was needed. It was reported that the telegram indicated that the men were likely to vote for a strike.

FOR NEW CATHOLIC
CHAPEL AT LAKEVIEW

According to reports the general committee in charge of the fund raising campaign for the erection of a new Catholic chapel at Lakeview, is very active and their efforts are being crowned with success. Social events are being conducted every week in the chapel, while contests of all sorts are being organized.

Arrangements for the big concert to be held Sunday evening, Aug. 21 in the Lakeview theatre are progressing and the chairman of the concert committee, John F. Golden, stated this morning that the affair promises to be a notable one. Local and out-of-town talent have promised their support and it is expected the affair will eclipse anything of its kind ever conducted in this city or neighboring town.

The drawing contest for the gold watch donated by Willis J. Peitler and the $25 centre piece, the gift of Miss Catherine Burke of Collinsville, will be brought to a close at the concert at which time the names of the winners will be announced. This evening in the chapel there will be a whist party under the direction of Mrs. Michael Grady, while tomorrow evening the Misses Theriault will conduct a box party at the Willow Dale pavilion. The chairman of the general committee is John J. Flannery, while the secretary is Miss Elizabeth Sheehy.

MORE LOWELL MEN
ENLIST IN NAVY

Two more Lowell men for the U.S. North Dakota were forwarded from the local naval recruiting station today by Chief Cary. They were Leo Ferrault, 1137 Lakeview avenue, and Warren Ashton, 60 Orleans street. Both enlisted as apprentice seamen.

A complete finger printing outfit has been received at the station, and in addition to getting a thorough examination by the physician from the North Dakota who is in this city this week, applicants for a permit on the big ocean greyhound will also be fingerprinted by Chief Cary, so that their identity can be established at any time.

BRITISH AND SOVIETS
HAVE NAVAL CLASH

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Monday, Aug. 18.—The Bolshevik battleship Andrei-Pavlovsk, the battle cruiser Petropavlovsk, a transport, and a guardship are reported today to have been sunk during an engagement with the British fleet in the Gulf of Finland on Sunday.

The British were said to have lost three motor boats and 10 have had eight officers and three men killed.

MOTORCYCLES FOR
POSTOFFICE USE

Three motor-cycles, with side car attachments are soon to be put in use at the local postoffice. One will be assigned to the parcel post department and the other two to rural routes. If found efficient, it is probable that they will be used in night collections.

FIRE AT HAVRE DESTROYS GOODS
AND DAMAGES AMERICAN
TANKER

HAVRE, France, Aug. 18.—Fire which badly damaged the American tank steamer George G. Henry and destroyed merchandise on the docks valued at 500,000 francs today was caused by oil from the tanker catching fire when an unloading pipe broke. The burning oil flooded the pier to which the steamer was moored.

The George G. Henry, of 2000 gross tonnage, is owned by the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport company of Los Angeles. She left New York on August 2 loaded with oil.

DENIES HE KILLED WIDOW

Trial of Store Manager for Sensational Murder Starts
at Norfolk, Va.

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 19.—Testifying at his trial yesterday on a charge of having shot and killed Mrs. Jean Schwab, a young widow, on the night of April 23, Elliot D. Chapman, aged 21, assistant manager of the store at which the woman was employed, formerly of Maine, reiterated his original story that Mrs. Schwab had been slain by a negro highwayman. He testified he had known the young woman only 10 days and denied he had any reason to "put her out of the way."

Chapman said that on the night of the murder he and his companion were on a deserted stretch of street near an old cemetery when the negro sprang from behind some shrubbery and after demanding money, killed Mrs. Schwab and shot him in the hip. The prosecution alleged that Chapman had mistreated the woman and then to cover up his crime, had killed her. Indicted the wound on himself and told the story of the attack by the highwayman. A number of witnesses, including the city coroner, testified merely to the condition under which the body was found. The coroner said he had not made a microscopic examination of the body, and that his superficial examination had shown nothing to indicate the woman had been mistreated before death.

CIVILIAN OFFICERS
CAN GO IN REGULARS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Emergency officers who served during the war with Germany and who still are in the service will be given first consideration in filling vacancies in the regular army, the war department announced today. Those who have been honorably discharged although expressing a preference for permanent service, will be the second class from which appointments will be made and those who did not ask to be retained will come next. The order is dependent upon necessary legislation being passed, the announcement said.

AIRSHIP MAY BE LOST
IN DESERT FLIGHT

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Monday, August 18.—N news of the great French airplane Goliath, which left Mogador for Dakar on Saturday morning with eight passengers, has been received here, and there is much anxiety over the possible fate of the machine. In view of the solitude of the regions over which the airplane flew, however, it is premature to conclude that the machine has been wrecked. Naval divisions here at Dakar have sent out well manned ships to scour the coast, but it will take several days to complete the search. The crew of the Goliath was provided with food and water sufficient for several days and while here, took on board arms and ammunition.

few hundred dollars of his appropriation left. Mayor Thompson said that the city was only $48,000 from the debt limit and that he considered that as close as it would be advisable for the city to get. Any further reduction, he believed, would prove detrimental to the financial standing of the city. Commissioner Donnelly wanted the matter deferred until Friday but his motion was defeated.

Stop Work On Sewer Jobs Following the meeting Commissioner Murphy said that he would lay off 60 men of the sewer department this evening. The three big jobs that are under way at the present time and not yet completed, he said, were But-man road, John avenue and Burnside street, Fairgrove street and Shamul avenue, the latter three being all one big job. The commissioner has already been given $95,000 for sewers this year but he declares that the Varnum avenue sewer job ate up the greater part of this amount and the fact that good weather enabled sewer work to be carried on right from the first of January instead of from the first of March as is usually the case, has resulted in the expenditure of an exceptionally large sum. Today's action following closely on the heels of Commissioner Morse's reduction of the force of the water department by 70 men yesterday means that 130 municipal employees have been thrown out of work in the past two days.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10.25. Commissioner Murphy was absent but came in later. Charles E. Cashin was granted permission to move two buildings, one in Columbia street and the other in Middlesex street, the necessary inspections having been made. A communication from the United Irish societies of Lowell, signed by the secretary, John Barrett, was read, inviting members of the council to be present at a mass meeting to be held in Associate hall next Sunday evening to protest against certain clauses of the League of Nations draft. The city clerk was instructed to write a letter of acceptance.

The following gasoline petitions were held over for hearings on Sept. 2: A. J. Couture, 65 Branch street; Abraham Wolf, 122 Chelmsford street; Louis Bourdeleau, 655 Broadway. The favorable report of Commissioner Murphy and accompanying order on the petition of William F. Lane et al. that easements be laid on the westerly side of Georgia avenue were ordered to be in the city clerk's office for seven days.

The petition of A. H. Whitney et al. that a sidewalk be laid on the easterly side of Hadley street, was referred to Commissioner Murphy. Mayor Thompson was given permission to issue on the purchasing agent a requisition for three motorcycles for the police department, the two old ones now in the department to be given in exchange. The mayor explained that the deprecations on fruit orchards in the outlying sections at this season of the year made it imperative that some sort of protection be given fruit owners and he deemed

Mays became the apple of Huston's eye because the colonel saw a pennant for the Yankees with Mays pitching. Yet the pennant is no nearer than when Mays joined them. No matter who wins the argument it is going to cost the New York club a lot of money and trouble.

the purchase of motorcycles the most efficient way to do this as the number of men in the department did not warrant sending them to patrol outlying sections. The necessary permission was granted.

The Sewer Situation Commissioner Murphy then introduced an order to borrow $25,000 for sewer construction, the same to be payable in 25 equal annual payments. The emergency clause was attached. Mr. Murphy said that the reason the order was introduced was because of the demand for sewers. At the present time there are waiting for action enough sewer petitions to eat up $36,026, he said. He realized that considerable money had been spent on sewers this year, but there had been a great demand from property owners. Another reason for the order was to relieve the unemployment situation here, the commissioner stated. "We have had exceptionally good weather this year," he continued,

"right from the first of January, so that the sewer work which usually begins in March was started this year in January. Then, too, the board of health is complaining about many of the dry wells in the city and that is another factor to be taken into consideration." The mayor said that there was no question about the necessity of sewer work but that it is always impossible to grant all the sewer petitions that come in during a single year. Some of them have to lie over until the next year. He agreed that the council should do all in its power for the unemployed, but declared that Lowell had already made as good a showing in this matter as any other city. Besides, the new auditorium, new high school and First street highway projects were soon scheduled to start and these would take care of a lot of men. The proximity of the city to the debt limit must be taken into consideration, he added.

At the present time, Lowell is only $48,000 from that limit and he was of the opinion that that is as near as it would be wise for the city to get. Commissioner Murphy said that last week he had employed 136 men on sewer work, but this week the number had been reduced to 66. He had only a few hundred dollars of his appropriation left, he said, and a number of bills had to be paid out of that. There followed considerable discussion and finally Commissioner Donnelly moved that the matter be deferred until Friday. Commissioner Morse seconded the motion but it was defeated, 3 to 2. Commissioner Marchand moved that the order be amended to read $10,000, and this also was defeated. The mayor and Commissioners Donnelly and Morse voting against it. Adjourned at 11.02 until September 2, at 10 A. M.

full, normal profitable production waits on peace.

Entire World Awaits Peace Now

"Our military plans of course wait upon it. We cannot intelligently or wisely decide how large a naval or military training is to be until we have peace, not only but also until we know how peace is to be sustained, whether by arms of single nations or by the concert of all the great peoples. And there is more than that difficulty involved. The vast surplus properties of the army include, not food and clothing merely, whose sale will affect normal production, but great manufacturing establishments also which should be restored to their former uses, great stores of machine tools and all sorts of merchandise, which must lie idle until peace and military policy are definitely determined. By the same token there can be no properly studied nation budget until then.

"The nations that ratify the treaty, such as Great Britain, Belgium and France will be in a position to lay their plans for controlling the markets of central Europe without competition from us if we do not presently act. We have no consular agents, no trade representatives there to look after our interests.

Affecting United States Industries

"There are large areas of Europe whose future will be uncertain and questionable until their people know the final settlements of peace and the forces which are to administer and sustain it. Without determination markets our production cannot proceed with intelligence or confidence. There can be no stabilization of wages because there can be no settled conditions of employment. There can be no easy or normal industrial credits, because there can be no confident or permanent revival of business.

"But I will not weary you with obvious examples. I will only venture to repeat that every element of normal life amongst us depends upon and awaits the ratification of the treaty of peace; and also that we cannot afford to lose a single summer's day by not doing all that we can to mitigate the winter's suffering, which unless we find means to prevent it, may prove disastrous to a large portion of the world and may, at its worst, bring upon Europe conditions even more terrible than those wrought by the war itself.

U. S. Alterations Accepted

"Nothing, I am led to believe, stands in the way of the ratification of the treaty except certain doubts with regard to the meaning and implication of certain articles of the covenant of the League of Nations, and I must frankly say that I am unable to understand why such doubts should be entertained. You will recall that when I had the pleasure of a conference with your committee and with the committee of the house of representatives on foreign affairs at the White House in March, last, the questions now most frequently asked about the League of Nations were all canvassed with a view to their immediate clarification. The covenant of the league was then in its first draft and subject to revision. It was pointed out that no express recognition was given to the Monroe Doctrine, that it was not expressly provided that the league should have no authority to act or to express a judgment on matters of domestic policy, that the right to withdraw from the league was not expressly recognized, and that the constitutional right of the congress to determine all questions of peace and war was not sufficiently safeguarded. On my return to Paris, all these matters were taken up again by the commission on the League of Nations and every suggestion of the United States was accepted.

Covenant Not Vague

"The view of the United States with regard to the questions I have mentioned, had in fact already been accepted by the commission and there was supposed to be nothing inconsistent with them in the draft of the covenant first adopted—the draft which was the subject of our discussion in March—but no objection was made to saying explicitly in the text what all had supposed to be implicit in it. There was absolutely no doubt as to the meaning of any one of the resulting provisions of the covenant in the minds of those who participated in drafting them, and I respectfully submit that there is nothing vague or doubtful in their wording.

"The Monroe Doctrine is expressly mentioned as an understanding which is in no way to be impaired or interfered with by anything contained in the covenant and the expression "regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine" was used, not because any one of the conferees thought there was any comparable agreement anywhere else in existence or in contemplation, but only because it was thought best to avoid the appearance of dealing in such a document with the policy of a single nation. Absolutely nothing is concealed in the phrase.

Domestic Questions

"With regard to domestic questions, Article XVII of the covenant expressly provides that, if in case of any dispute arising between members of the league the matter involved is claimed by one of the parties and is found by the council to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the council shall so report, and shall make no recommendation as to its settlement. The United States was by no means the only government interested in the explicit adoption of this provision, and there is no doubt in the mind of any authoritative students of international law that such matters as immigration, tariffs and naturalization are indisputably domestic questions with which no international body could deal without express authority to do so. No enumeration of domestic questions was undertaken because to undertake it, even by sample, would have involved the danger of seeming to exclude those not mentioned.

States Can Withdraw

"The right of any sovereign state to withdraw had been taken for granted, but no objection was made to making it explicit. Indeed, so soon as the views expressed at the White House conference were laid before the commission, it was at once conceded that it was best not to leave the answer to so important a question to inference. No proposal was made to set up any tribunal to pass judgment upon the question whether a withdrawing nation had in fact fulfilled all its international obligations and all its obligations under the covenant. It was recognized that that question must be left to be resolved by the conscience of the nation proposing to withdraw; and I must say that it did not seem to me worth while to propose that the article be made explicit because I knew that the United States would never itself propose to withdraw from the league if its conscience was not entirely clear as to the fulfillment of all its international obligations. It has never failed to fulfill them and never will.

Article X. Not Doubtful

"Article X. is in no respect of doubtful meaning when read in the light of the covenant as a whole. The council of the league can only advise upon the means by which the obligations of that great article are to be given effect to. Unless the United States is a party to the policy or action in question, her own affirmative vote in the council is necessary before any advice can be given, for a unanimous vote of the council is required. If she is a party, the trouble is her anyhow. And the unanimous vote of the council is only advice in any case.

"Each government is free to reject it if it pleases. Nothing could have been made more clear to the conference than the right of our congress under our constitution to exercise its independent judgment in all matters of peace and war. No attempt was made to question or limit that right. The United States will, indeed, undertake under Article X. to respect and preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league and that engagement constitutes a very grave and solemn moral obligation. But it leaves our congress absolutely free to put its own interpretation upon it on all cases that call for action. It is binding in conscience only, not in law.

Endless Interpretations

"It has several times been suggested, in public debate and in private conference, that interpretations of the sense in which the United States accepts the engagements of the covenant should be embodied in the instrument of ratification. There can be no reasonable objection to such interpretations accompanying the act of ratification provided they do not form a part of the formal ratification itself. Most of the interpretations which have been suggested to me embody what seems to me the plain meaning of the instrument itself. But if such interpretations should constitute a part of the formal resolution of ratification long delays would be the inevitable consequence, inasmuch as all the many governments concerned would have to accept, in effect, the language of the senate as the language of the treaty before ratification would be complete. The assent of the German assembly at Weimar would have to be obtained among the rest, and I must frankly say that I could only with the greatest reluctance approach that assembly for permission to read the treaty as we understand it and as those who framed it quite certainly understood it.

"If the United States were to qualify the document in any way, moreover, I am confident from what I know of the many conferences and debates which accompanied the formulation of the treaty that our example would immediately be followed in many quarters. In some instances with very serious reservations, and that the meaning and operative force of the treaty would presently be clouded from one end of its clauses to the other. Pardon me, Mr. Chairman, if I have been entirely unreserved and plain spoken in speaking of the great matters we all have so much at heart. If excuse is needed, I trust that the critical situation of affairs may serve as my justification. The issues that manifestly hang upon the conclusions of the senate with regard to peace and upon the time of its action, are so grave and so clearly insusceptible of being thrust on one side or postponed that I have felt it necessary in the public interest to make this urgent plea and to make it as simple and as unreservedly as possible."

BAKER DEFENDS ARMY OF 576,000 MEN

WASHINGTON, August 19.—Sec. Baker defended yesterday before the senate sub-committee on military affairs his recommendation for an army of 576,000 men by saying that in view of the "disturbed conditions in the world" he did not wish the "responsibility" of asking for a small force.

Sec. Baker indicated several times that the bill as presented, including its provision for compulsory universal military training for 19-year-old youths, was that of military experts rather than his own, although it had his approval.

He said his own "guess" was that an army of 576,000 was perhaps somewhat larger than necessary, but that he did not wish to take the responsibility of opposing the opinion of the country's greatest military men.

Regarding the provision for maintenance of three divisions in the insular possessions, the secretary admitted that the force appeared to him somewhat large, and agreed to the suggestion of Senator Wadsworth of New York that native troops might be used to advantage. The senator had remarked that at present it seemed that every American soldier kept in the Philippines was there somewhat in the nature of a "hostage of faith."

The secretary also considered as worth while a suggestion that a part of the youth of the country might be given the opportunity for naval training, possibly as a substitute for the training he otherwise would receive in the army.

Air Ministry Discussed

Questions offered the opportunity for securing Mr. Baker's opinion on the proposed air ministry. Senator New presented arguments for the separation of the military and aeronautics, but Sec. Baker was frank in his declaration of opinion that it would make for inefficiency. Difficulty would be experienced, Mr. Baker said, in maintaining the proper co-ordination under separate heads, and if a more adequate air service is desired, he suggested it would be more practicable to utilize the existing military organization.

Another reason he urged for opposing a centralization of aviation was that it would tend to discourage competition in the development of aerial appliances. Aviation, he said, is yet so new that all the ingenuity and inventions that can be had are needed.

Advocates One Drill

He also explained the difficulty an air ministry would have in handling its pilots when separately trained, indicating the necessity from the point of view of the military man of having the airman so drilled with the army men that there would be the least possible chance of failure when it came to co-ordination.

The testimony developed that the United States now has 10,715 airplanes, of which, however, only 3,325 are service planes. The major part of the present equipment now is obsolete, but, it was asserted by the secretary, the types are better than any in Europe.

A utilization of those types, coupled with our experience in production, would, he believed, serve to save much time if it should again become necessary to bring that branch of the service to a war basis.

The secretary said that if the government wished to develop the air industry, either for commerce or for war purposes, the solution was simple—merely spend the money to buy more planes.

PRIZE WINNERS OF BABY SHOW

Alice Victoria Doyle, of 285 Pawtucket street, aged nine months, and Marjory Ruth Bumps of 41 Lapine road, aged six months, were awarded first and second prize, respectively, at the park department baby show held yesterday afternoon on the north common. The awards were made in accordance with a chart prepared by the government which showed just how heavy and how tall a child should be at various periods during his or her first year on earth. The awards were made by Harvey B. Greene of the park commission, the first prize being $5 in gold and the second $2.50. There were 123 entrants.

LONDON WOOL ACTIVE

LONDON, Monday, Aug. 15.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to $320,000 bales. There was a good demand from continental and American buyers and merinos advanced to 5 to 10 per cent, and fine crossbreds gained from 5 to 7 1/2 per cent.

FRUIT EXCURSION

The Middlesex County Farm bureau is to conduct a fruit excursion for those interested in fruit cultivation through Middlesex county on Aug. 20 and a majority of the leading fruit farms of the county will be visited. The excursion will be made by automobile and those who go are expected to furnish their own machines as well as basket lunches. The tour will start at 10 a. m. from the Frost farm in Littleton and will end at the Ames Bros. farm in East Sudbury. Representatives from Amherst and the state department of agriculture will be among those taking the trip.

WELCOME HOME RECEPTION

Another enthusiastic meeting of the general committee in charge of the welcome home celebration for the French-speaking soldiers and sailors of this city, which will be held Labor Day, was held last evening in U.M.A.C. hall with Chairman Joseph L. Lamoureux in the chair. Very interesting and encouraging reports were heard and it was announced that the committee had already raised $2000 in its campaign funds. A cheque for $700 was received from St. Louis' parish. Considerable business was transacted.

SIDE STREET ADVERTISERS

Strange as it may seem some business men in Lowell believe that because their places of business happen to be on side streets, it furnishes a valid reason why no good can accrue to them from advertising. They argue that readers of advertisements flock to the shopping center of the city and it is useless to advertise a store located outside the beaten path.

We believe this theory is fallacious. These are the times when the person with money to spend is willing to go to the place where the best value can be obtained for the money spent. Oftentimes being on a side street is no real drawback to a merchant when his rental is compared with that of a store on the main street. Taking this into consideration, we believe if the side street merchant will advertise his exact location and offer the necessary inducement he will reap the benefit in the long run. The side street merchant needs to advertise because he is a side street merchant and to get the most out of money spent for advertising, we suggest

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

When the people of this country were engaged in the fiercest of all wars, they were united and as a result, our armies and our navy very quickly forced Germany to sue for peace.

Peace came on November 11, 1918, but since that time this nation has had more real strife, more suffering than it had during the war. The union of forces that existed while we were at war, seems to have been lost, and now the actual war with Germany is followed by conditions that border upon industrial warfare where only peace, good will and co-operation between employer and employee should exist. Strikes without number are declared for the most extravagant demands and there is no telling where it all will wind up. The railroad brotherhoods seem to set the pace for other organizations, and as a result, the systems of transportation are badly demoralized throughout the country.

The high cost of living is set down in justification for all the strikes in the land today; and yet in the demands of the strikers be conceded, the cost of living will be pushed a notch higher. In quiet succession then would come other labor organizations, with similar demands so that the evil complained of would be increased rather than remedied by the action of the very people who suffer most from its operation.

It should be plain by this time that this general demand for increased wages will be of little use if each increase granted puts the cost of living still higher. The present mode of having wages chase the cost of living suggests the futility of the dog chasing his tail. It gets us no nearer to the solution of the real problems of the hour the chief of which are to check the depreciation of the dollar, to stabilize prices, to stop profiteering and to maintain industrial peace.

In this industrial disturbance the federal and state governments are face to face with the result of their own cowardice in not boldly dealing with these questions when the trouble first appeared. What the industrial situation demands is a compulsory arbitration law to settle all disputes in the operation of public service utilities. With such a law, strikes in the public service could be prohibited or even penalized as a crime against the sovereign people, calculated to impose hardship, loss and suffering upon defenseless people who have no part in the controversy. Such a law would deal equally with capital and labor, recognizing and sustaining the rights of both and at the same time, promoting the co-operation so essential to their mutual success. At a time when increased production is so very necessary to the needs of the people and to meeting the high cost of living, it is peculiarly unfortunate to have the transportation systems of the nation threatened with general strikes which would bring suffering upon every other class as well as the strikers themselves. The general strike as a means of tying skin to anarchy and so destructive of progress, business and even human life, that it must be met wherever attempted by the sternest power of the government. The general strike as a means of tying up all industry and overcoming the government, is the principal revolutionary measure in the constitution of the I. W. W. and those who advocate such measures thereby place themselves in line with the foremost leaders of that organization.

For 25 years The Sun has advocated a compulsory arbitration law for state and nation but thus far it has not been provided, although every day gives fresh proof of the great need of such a mode of settling disputes, especially in public service utilities such as railroads, street railways, telephone and telegraph. It is true, that such a law has been mildly opposed by labor unions; and it was the dread of facing such opposition that prevented legislators from enacting such a law.

They admitted that it is necessary; but they did not dare oppose the wishes of the labor unions.

We now see the result with the four railroad brotherhoods who asked $60,000,000 by the Adamson law and $200,000,000 since coming forward with a fresh demand for $30,000,000 more, under threat of a strike to tie up the railroads of the country despite the fact that the wage increase to railroad employees of all classes during the past three years, has been $1,200,000,000. The brotherhoods have delivered their ultimatum to the government—lowered cost of living or another sweeping increase in wages, despite the $500,000,000 deficit in running the system during the past year.

The industrial menace is real, and nothing but tactful action by congress to prohibit strikes and settle all such disputes through a properly constituted arbitration court can avert a cataclysm.

OUR TRAFFIC LAWS

As Lowell continues to grow, in equal measure does the city's traffic increase and more and more it becomes evident that a day, not too far distant, shall call for the institution of drastic and far-reaching traffic regulations.

Perhaps this city's peculiar layout constitutes a problem more vexing than is the case in other cities of the same size; possibly other municipalities are not plagued to such an extent in solving their traffic problems, but if we are peculiar and his peculiarity is something born of earlier folly in manufacturing narrow and awkwardly intersecting thoroughfares, then must we pass strict and sweeping laws to prevent congestion.

There are hours during the day when it seems that the complicated and stalled maze of street cars, automobiles, carriages and carts of every description in Central street defy untangling and such blockades are in no way accountable to any lack of foresight or ability on the part of the police officer directing this unwieldy stream. Even in ordinary business hours, traffic becomes crowded at times and the entire question is one which demands serious study and comprehensive changes.

Lowell people must be weaned away from the habit of coming to a stop at any place they so desire and in turn become educated to the idea that they cannot hope to park their automobiles and carriages downtown as they do in front of their own homes. The city must provide the laws and teach the public that whole-hearted co-operation will be expected in their enforcement.

Merrimack square is comparatively free from traffic congestion, but it is not a large area, and two policemen have only slight difficulty in enforcing the parking and stopping laws. Central street, however, now constitutes the real problem, with the addition of Prescott street. The later thoroughfare is vocate such measures thereby place age of a single car truck and a continuously moving stream of traffic on either side. At the present time parking is allowed in Prescott street, 75 feet from either end, but this should not be allowed for a single second and just as long as it is tolerated traffic through this narrow passageway will be entirely out of the question.

Between the hours of 11.30 a. m. and 1.30 p. m. and 5 and 6.30 p. m. Central street on either side from Merrimack street to Tower's Corner should be closed as a parking area and warning signs should be placed at short intervals, telling of the laws governing that particular section. The fact that parking is now allowed along this street, makes for congestion, for moving vehicles follow street cars in the tracks and oftentimes an unbroken line of traffic extends from the junction of Central and Prescott streets to Warren street.

As a crowning feature a mounted traffic officer riding along Central, Prescott and Merrimack streets during so-called rush hours would be a distinct asset and in public service would more than repay whatever cost his outfit might bring to the city.

ANOTHER CAR STRIKE?

A general strike on the Eastern Massachusetts railway is threatened unless further concessions be made to meet the demands of the unions. The men are not satisfied with the 12 per cent increase awarded by the War Labor Board. This will give them 51 cents per hour, but they want 72 cents per hour. According to statements of some of the men they might compromise on 57 cents an hour, which would double the increase awarded by the War Labor Board.

The men of the system are influenced in a measure by the fact that the Boston Elevated is paying their men 62 cents an hour. While it is admitted that they have some grounds for dissatisfaction, the fact remains that in this state of industrial unrest, they would make a very grave mistake by going out on strike.

Under the present method of conducting the Eastern Massachusetts system, the state is responsible for the operation of the road and it would have to meet whatever loss would result from a strike. In addition, the people who would have to pay the bills, would suffer incalculable loss and inconvenience. In spite of this, however, it is quite probable that if a strike should be declared there will be no hurry to force a settlement.

Doubtless the governor would interfere to bring about a settlement, even from political motives, but all over the system there would be such a rush to substitute jitney vehicles for the electric cars that within a few weeks the motor cars would prove so serviceable, that they would be permanently retained and patronized by the public in preference to the electric.

While the recent Lowell strike was in progress the street railway company had a demonstration of what the people can do by the free use of automobiles and jitneys in the absence of car service. That strike taught the people how to get to beaches in big motor trucks, scores of which have been used, especially on Sundays, for the purpose of taking large numbers of people to these resorts at a moderate expense. Another strike in this locality would do more than anything else we can conceive of to kill the service; to eliminate some of the less popular routes and reduce the number of men employed.

For these reasons and many others that might be adduced, The Sun would respectfully advise the street railway men not to resort to a strike at this time. Their interests will be better served by further agitation for what they want, without resorting to the utterly unpopular method of enforcing their demands through a strike.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

With green corn advertised at 20 cents a dozen in many Lowell markets, one is forced to ante up 10 cents an ear in most of the chair lunches of the city, and the clerks don't even blush when they punch the ticket. Blueberry pie, too, will set one back 10 cents a cut, although the price of berries has dropped to 15 cents a quart or less in the stores. I have heard many people complain that there is more profiteering in the chair lunches than in any other places in the city. Certain it is that these establishments compare unfavorably for many articles with the charge in restaurants and hotels, too—in different sections of the city. Many hotels, I have found, that furnish white tablecloths, waiters and music, in the face of the reduction in profit caused by wartime prohibition, continue to charge less for the same amount than the chair lunches which assert that they can feed at cheap prices because they do not have so much overhead expense. The happy days of free handouts are a thing of the past, too. A slice of cheese, which a few years ago would be handed out free with an order of apple pie, now costs five cents. All in all, the public seems to be getting it in the neck coming and going.

That baby show on the North common yesterday afternoon was productive of a lot of interesting incidents and the crowd of 500 who gathered despite the unpleasant weather found their journey to the common well worth the trouble. The North common is the centre of one of the city's most congested areas and the result was an unexpectedly large number of babies present to take part in the show. Usually an affair of this kind means a lot of "howling" on the part of the participants but in the hour or so that the writer was at the show yesterday not a cry was heard from the large number of youngsters congregated there. Somebody attributed this to the fact that the day was not warm and consequently there was nothing to annoy the youngsters.

SEEN AND HEARD

Happiness is regulated by what a man is, not what he possesses.

How do you like this thought: Four months from today you will be doing Christmas shopping!

Isn't it about time the soda water tax was called off and the price of candy lowered?

Prospective brides and bridegrooms build air castles to the skies and then watch old St. C. of L. knock them down.

Has the government got any shoes or coal it would like to sell to a ready public? Both articles would be gobbled up as quickly as the canned stuff.

We know of one man who plans to make the following gifts to his four small sons: One load of wood, one ton of coal, one warm, heavy overcoat, size 10 and a 14-pound turkey.

TOWN FLYCATCHERS

There isn't an automobile owned in Pickett county, Tenn., and the natives still refer to them as "horseless carriages." It is hard to persuade some of them that there is such a thing as an automobile.

"If there is such a thing," replied one native, "it's an invention of the devil."—Exchange.

Lowell Pipers Went Big

The Lawrence Tribune says: Daley's Irish Bag Pipers from Lowell made a big hit the other night when they gave a splendid program for the members of the Friends of Irish Freedom. It was largely through the efforts of John Flaherty, that they were secured for the evening and everyone present agreed that they lived up to all that John had predicted for them.

Bunions on Pay Check

Get ready for bunions on the pay envelope. Twenty dollar shoes this fall. Shoe foundry heads predict no pair of corn garages under 15 planks will be worth running down on the heels and the majority of feet satchels will kick the salary for 20 crimps. After a cow is all worn out of its hide, then we'll wear out two cramped portions of it at the rate of a cent a shuffle, jitney a stub, wrinkled dime a scuff, until 20 washers' worth is worn down to give the toes a southern exposure. Imagine cramming a set of 20 easier foot stalls over the window sill to shut off a cat squawk. Still yet imagine in an outburst of wrath having to use a 20 lala toe rack to plant a kick. And oh, think of using a couple of 20 plug feet gloves as parking space for alien hoofs on crowded trolley chariots. Gonna be some kicks on those kicks.—Gene Ahern, N.E.A.

Making Himself

He looked at his job in a curious way, and I'll try to repeat what I once heard him say. "Now here is a task I've been given to do, and what will be said when my labor is through? I've the tools to work with, the tools to employ, yet metals and tools many poor men destroy. Good and bad work are done to the very same plan. So the final result must depend on the man, and this thing when it's finished is going to be a positive mixture of metal and me."

"This thing will be useful and stand up to its making I've blended my best, If enough of myself I put into my task. 'Who made it?' the man who shall use it will ask, If I work with the metals and follow the plan, And shape it to size and then leave out the man. It won't hold together or bear with the strain, And if the product, shall carry for back of the metal in this men shall see, In the way that I've shaped it a picture of me."

"My job is to labor in copper and brass To make certain things the inspectors will pass. And the product once finished is sent out to be. A perfect resemblance in metal of me. If I've put into it just the best that I could, The article stands to the test and is good. And I share in the praise that it merits. By stamping a piece of good work with my name. So the thing that I'm building of copper and brass, Isn't merely a piece the inspectors will pass. I come to my task here whatever it is, With the notion that what I am making is me."

—Edgar A. Guest.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Largely Attended Meeting of Lowell Branch of American Legion—Drive for Members

Installation of the recently elected officers of Lowell post of the American Legion took place at the Community Service club on Dutton street last evening when fully 300 members of the organization met in regular session. Fifty new members were enrolled in the local post at the meeting, and plans were made for a campaign to bring in all former service men in the city.

The officers installed were: Post commander, Walter J. Scannell; senior vice post commander, John O'Hourke; junior vice post commander, Joseph T. Sullivan; adjutant, James P. McCready; quartermaster, Eli B. Hart; historian, Winfred C. MacBryne; officer of the day, John Leavitt; officer of the guard, John J. Graves, and sentinels, John M. King.

Post Commander Scannell called to order at 8 o'clock. A motion was made that a committee of three be appointed to investigate complaints of alleged unfair treatment of ex-service men who are searching for employment, and the following were appointed: Chairman, George Toye; Daniel L. Gray and Stephen C. Heslon. In this connection Post Commander Scannell said that the legion will make every effort to see that its members are not forced to remain out of employment, and it was afterwards voted to send a communication to the Aberthaw Construction company, which was said to be about to commence the construction of a large store house for one of the local cotton mills, asking the company to place as many ex-service men as possible during the work.

Plans for a city-wide drive for new members were discussed in detail, and Adj. McCready laid emphasis on the fact that the only way to line up the 7000 or more ex-service men of Lowell in the post was by each member doing his bit and bringing the men he knew to the meetings. Co-operation is what is needed, said the adjutant, and if the members would all put forth their best efforts he believed that they would add the Lowell post across with flying colors.

A committee was appointed to get in touch with the theatrical managers of the city, and ask their co-operation in using slides at the different performances showing the benefits of the American Legion, and giving information on where to sign up, etc. It was also stated that a large supply of advertising posters is on the way from the national headquarters, and these will be distributed throughout the city upon their arrival.

Col. John E. J. Herbert, formerly Massachusetts state chairman of the American Legion, has been secured to address the members at the next meeting to be held Sept. 8. Commander Scannell announced. Although Col. Herbert has sent in his resignation as state chairman, due to his entry into the political field, he still retains a great interest in the organization, and his address is expected to be well worth hearing.

Applications for the testimonials issued by the state of Massachusetts to her fighting sons were distributed among the men. These testimonials have no relation to bonuses or other gratuities issued by the state or government, but are in the form of a diploma, showing the record of the ex-service man or woman.

It was voted to appoint James A. Brown an insurance officer to assist the men in looking after their war risk insurance, etc. Mr. Brown will be at the Community Service club every Thursday evening to advise the men in all matters connected with their policies or allotments. Following Mr. Brown's appointment the meeting adjourned.

AUTOS DAMAGED IN CRASH

A Buick touring car driven by Neil Moynihan was sideswiped by another machine, whose ownership is unknown, shortly after 10 o'clock last night at a point in Gorham street about a mile beyond the Edison cemetery. The left mud guard and running board of Moynihan's car were ripped off, while the other machine dropped a front wheel. Although there were several occupants of the cars, no one was injured.

KLOBY-SHEVLIN BOUT DARTMOUTH TO HAVE WESTERN STAFF

Boston Boxer Wants Major Biddle to Name Referee in Lawrence Fight

BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Everything's all set for the army-navy clash in the ring at Lawrence on Saturday between Eddie Shevlin and Young Kloby Corcoran, except the referee question. The match, which will be the top-lane act at the carnival of boxing at O'Sullivan park, will not only bring the army and navy together, but will also settle the New England title for that weight.

The promoters of the match have named Scotty McGhee of Lawrence for the third man, and Shevlin, for the benefit of his friends and those that are backing him to win, is keen on having anybody but McGhee to referee the match. McGhee's friendship for Kloby, and the fact that he is a native son, like Kloby himself, makes it O.K. for the Lawrence fight bugs, but dissatisfied for the others. For that reason, Shevlin wants another man.

The importance of the army-navy clash is sufficient to warrant the hiring of a real big gun for refereeing. Shevlin stated yesterday he was in favor of having anybody but McGhee, but that he would be glad to have the choice turned over to Major Biddle of Philadelphia. Major Biddle is an official. Shevlin feels that inasmuch as the clash is an army-navy affair, it should be up to army-navy officials to have charge of the refereeing—at least so far as naming the third man goes. This is more than a fair proposition and would please all New England fans.

The Call'em

No real sportsman can but admire the indomitable spirit of Francis Outright, conqueror of Ray and Vardon, when he continued to play in the national amateur golf championship despite the advice of physicians that he should not venture out of doors. With a fever and poisoned tonsils, the Woodland marvel went there Sunday that he would be "out there" on Monday if he was strong enough to swing a club. He realized full well that it meant to withdraw from match play, both on his own standpoint and the effect it would have on the class of the tournament, therefore, his most commendable, even though slightly dangerous stand.

Cuba's World Healer

It will be some time before the republic of Cuba will be shorn of its one world champion in the realm of sport. Every year and sometimes two or three times during the 12 months the little country sends its world beater Capablanca to knock 'em dead around the checker boards. At the present time he is in the international victory tournament at Hastings, London, six games won and none lost and undoubtedly will continue to pile them up in the king row to the satisfaction of all onlookers. He's a bear on this methodical moving stuff and although his chosen sport doesn't thrill us to the point of nervousness, nevertheless we can't help but hand him the palm for patience and a clever use of the "old berry."

Parrelling Out Knowledge

The following has been received and duly considered:
The Call'em:
Please let me know through your interesting columns when Willie Ritchie lost the high weight championship and where. Also what is the fastest time recorded for 100 yard dash.
Thanking you, etc. J. F. S.

Mr. Ritchie let the title slip away from him on points in a 20-round bout with Freddy Welsh in London on July 7, 1914. Eugene Corri, referee. Nine and three-fifths seconds is generally accepted as the fastest time for 100 yards outdoors, although one, Minoru Fujii of Tokyo university, is said to have traveled the distance on a grass track in 9.25 seconds in 1902. The time of 9.35 has been made by several different runners, amateur and professional alike. Alvin T. Meyer holds the indoor record of 9.45 seconds.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong

Scott Perry, at one time considered the brightest pitching prospect in the major leagues and over whom the Boston Braves and Philadelphia Athletics indulged in a long, drawn-out controversy regarding ownership, has jumped the Athletics and joined the Franklin, Pa., semi-pro club. He explains his exodus from under the big stuff for me, and let's it go at that. It probably means his departure for good, a fact which is to be regretted, for he undoubtedly would have developed into a consistent star.

A Fast-Stepping Veteran

One of the most remarkable performances ever placed on record when seen at Roadville last Friday was a 2:15.4. This horse was foaled in 1901 and is, therefore, 18 years old. He made his record of 2:15.4 over and over again. In 1908, Goldsmith Maid is the only horse that ever trotted faster than this gelding at the same age. She was 17 when she produced the world's record of 2:14, while she trotted in 2:14.5 when 18, 2:14 when 19 and 2:14 1/2 at 20 years.

CHALLENGE ROUND OF TENNIS DOUBLES

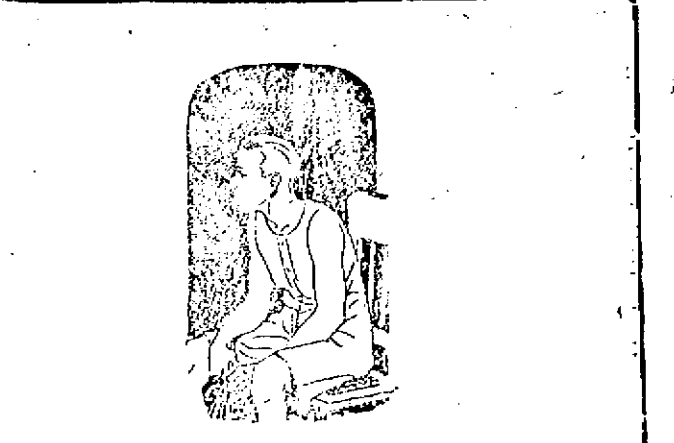

NEWTON, Aug. 19.—Both the little holders and the contestants were eager to play the challenge round of the national lawn tennis doubles championship tournament at the Longwood Cricket club today. Postponement of the nation yesterday because of rain weather, caused the players, William T. Tilden, 2nd, and Vincent Richards, the present champions, and the Australian rivals, Norman E. Brookes and Gerald L. Patterson, considerable anxiety.

All four players are entered in the national singles tournament at Forest Hills, N. Y., next week, and desires a few days of special preparation for the new game. Tilden and Richards have also expressed themselves as being particularly anxious to visit their respective homes in Philadelphia and Yonkers, N. Y., before going to Forest Hills.

CHANGES IN POLO

Playing Managers to be Shifted This Season

Bill Duggan will play with the Lawrence roller polo team this season. He was reserved by Lawrence at the meeting held in Providence. Quigley and Blount were also reserved by the Lawrence team. Hart, Harbins and Griffith, Worcester reserved Higgins, Taylor and Donnelly; New Bedford, George Earl, Conlin and Gardner, Fall River, Williams, Thompson and Mulhead; Salem, Kid Williams, Alexander and Purcell; Brockton and Fall River are added to league. Fred Jean will handle Fall River and Barney Doherty may go to Brockton with Frank Harry King. Providence of Salem, Duke Putnam will probably manage New Bedford.

CLINTON COMES HERE FOR BOUT

Johnny Clinton, who fought a fast 12-round draw with Mel Coogan at New Bedford last night came to Lowell today to rest up and then resume training tomorrow for his bout here on Friday night with Eddie Moy of Allentown, Pa. Clinton put up a fine exhibition in the whale town, and made a big hit with his fans. In a meeting Moy he will tackle a fast and hard hitting opponent. Moy and Clinton were scheduled to meet here about a month ago but the match was called off when Clinton met with an injury while training. At the time both men expressed the desire to have it at, and the coming set-to is looked upon as a high class attraction. The pair met in Boston some time ago and their management was one of the most sensational ever staged in the Hub. Moy's manager has sent word that his boy will be here on Thursday and will engage in a light workout at the Crescent rink on Friday afternoon.

The bout will be staged by the Crescent A. A. and already many requests for reservations have been received. In addition to the Moy-Clinton mill there will be three other good bouts. Arthur Schick, the 125-pound amateur champion of New York, will appear in the semi-final bout at the Crescent A. A. Friday night. His opponent has not yet been selected. In the first preliminary Young Diamond and Kid Corrigan, both of Lowell, will meet, while in the other six-round event Jim Demas, of the Helene club and Happy Conley, will perform.

TENNIS MATCHES AT MEADOW CLUB

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Improved conditions make it possible to start the tennis matches in the opening round of the singles on the turf of the Meadow club here today. The featured contests bring R. V. Thomas of the Australian team against Gerald Donahdon, Jr., of the best of the eastern juniors; C. D. Dwyer of Washington, D. C. against H. G. Kellher of Seattle, Wash.; and George Helm, captain of the Harvard team, against Harold L. Taylor of Brooklyn, national junior title holder, and a Princeton student.

NEW CATCHING MARK

Ray Schalk Works in 100th Game of Season

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Ray Schalk, catcher for the Chicago American league club, yesterday set a new mark when he was behind the plate in the game with Philadelphia. It was the 100th game he had caught this season, and marked the seventh consecutive season that he has accomplished this unusual feat. Schalk's nearest rival was George Gibson, former catcher for the Pittsburgh National league team, for which he caught 100 games for six seasons, but not consecutively.

AKRON PROUD OF CHAMPION FIGHTER

AKRON, O., August 19.—If Bob Martin, champion of allied fighting men, is ready to box, his home town is ready to watch him. Akron wants Martin to make his professional ring debut here for the town is proud of the soldier fighting man who vanquished all heavyweight boxers of the allied ranks. Akron fans believe in time Martin will be the recognized heavyweight champion of the world.

Matt Hinkel of Cleveland who has a permit to stage a 20-round bout to a decision here Labor Day is anxious to take Martin on for the big show if arrangements can be made in time. Martin, back in this country after lengthy service overseas, has made no statement as to his future plans. But 100,000 fighting men of the allied armies want to see him start things and work up to a bout for the title with Jack Dempsey. The fighting men say Martin has more claim to a world title than has Dempsey who did not appear for the biggest of all fights overseas. Fans here would like to see Martin matched with Captain Bob Roper, another army man, who has made his way to the front in the heavy-weight ranks. Captain Roper did not see service overseas but "knocked" everything cold on this side. He claims a 10-round decision victory over Jack Johnson in Mexico. He is anxious for a match with the allied champ and so are the fans countrywide. Such a bout would command attention. Service men from far and near would want to see the two big soldiers in the ring. This card should attract a capacity house Labor Day or any other date. Owing to the short space of time intervening it is hardly probable a match for Martin can be arranged by Labor Day but the opportunity awaits Martin as soon as he is ready and there is little doubt but that the soldier boy will go in for the professional game.

Most Delightful Spots in Delightful Land Held Down by Royal Refugees

Hosts of Servants and Plenty to Eat and Drink—They Should Worry

BY HAROLD E. BECHTOL
European Manager of N.E.A.
ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 19.—Switzerland, the asylum of dethroned kings, subjectless rulers and blue-blooded refugees, has more royal inmates than ever before.

Almost every week a new one sneaks across the border into exile. Many are living incognito.

The Swiss say more than half the dozens of former German and Austrian kings are loafing about somewhere.

Some are standing on the roofs crying "Pity us!"

Some are dissipating in luxurious places on money they never did anything to earn.

The royal asylum is taking on the aspect of a permanent institution with regular boarders.

Between drinks, ex-royalty is reconciling itself to a long stay in the Alps.

As King Constantine admits, the king business is lean pickings.

Constantine, Ludwig, Karl and all the lesser royal lights can't understand it. They are subjectless, countryless. Nobody wants to be ruled any more.

But don't waste any tears—None of them is hard up or friendless. The leavings of royalty seem to have a way of taking care of their own. Anyhow—

These exiles live in the most delightful spots of delightful Switzerland.

They have more and better food, in one meal, than the average American or Swiss has in two.

Keep Loneliness Away

They are not lonely—most of them have their entire families with them; others have their friends along.

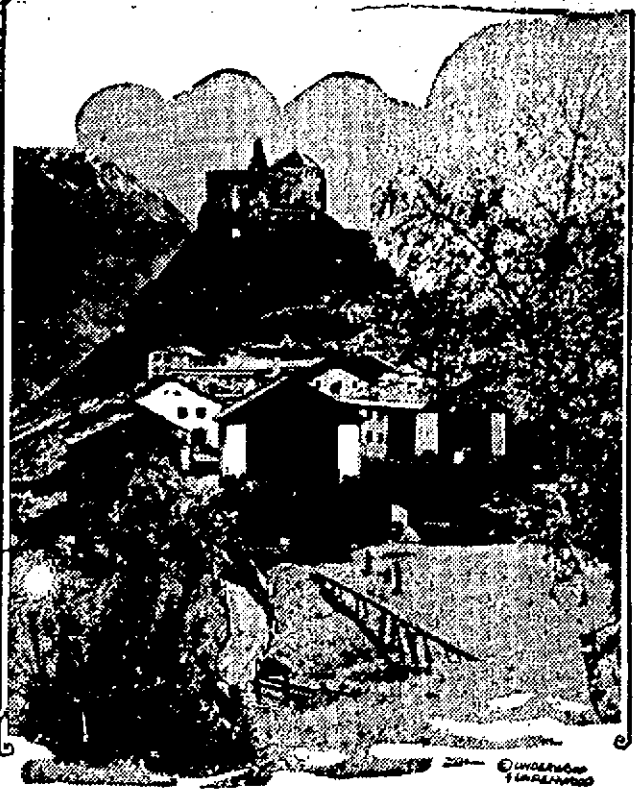

They are all surrounded by admiring hangers-on who sympathize, flatter and cheer them up.

They have at call anywhere from six to sixty servants apiece.

Those who don't live in mountain castles or lakefront bungalows hidden away on grounds worth $50,000 an acre, live in beautiful suites of luxurious tourist hotels.

At Territet, on the eastern point of Lake Geneva, I found the hotels full of German and Austrian royalty, living like millionaires and dissipating nightly. They sit about the magnificent lobbies and smoking rooms until well toward morning, drinking heavily and sympathizing with each other.

Often they drink so much they have to be assisted to their rooms. One woman, until recently a reigning

Such spots of grandeur as this, the Swiss retreat of the ex-Duchess of Hesse, are being monopolized by former European royalty. It's the Castle of Tarasp, in the Lower Engadine.

Ludwig of Bavaria, on the other hand, lives quietly, though magnificently, with his daughter, Princess Hildegarda and some close friends, at the Castle of Sals in the mountains of eastern Switzerland, near Chur. He takes walks daily, is approachable, frequently has his picture snapped, and is in anything but hard straits.

Karl of Austria came fleeing into Switzerland several months ago with his wife Zita, three children and an army of servants, escorted by Colonel Strutt of the British army.

The Swiss government didn't know whether to admit him or not, fearing at first the opinion of the allied world. But Swiss officials say Britain intervened, said his life was in danger and got him in.

Poor tired feet -

POUNDING nail-studded leather heels on hard pavements all day robs you of energy you need. Every step is a shock not only to your feet, but also to your entire system. Every shock consumes your energy and produces fatigue. It adds just that much more to the strain of your daily life.

You can protect yourself from these useless shocks. You can cushion your feet against these daily jolts and jars. O'Sullivan's Heels absorb the shocks that tire you out. They relieve the jolts and jars that make a burden of walking.

It is not just the rubber that gives O'Sullivan's Heels their springiness and wearing qualities.

Rubber, as you know, can be made hard and brittle as in fountain pens, or soft and crumbly as in pencil erasers. To secure the resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are "compounded" with the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then

"cured" or baked under high pressure.

By this special process the greatest resiliency is combined with the utmost durability.

It is this special process that has, since the making of the first rubber heel, established O'Sullivan's Heels as the standard of rubber heel quality.

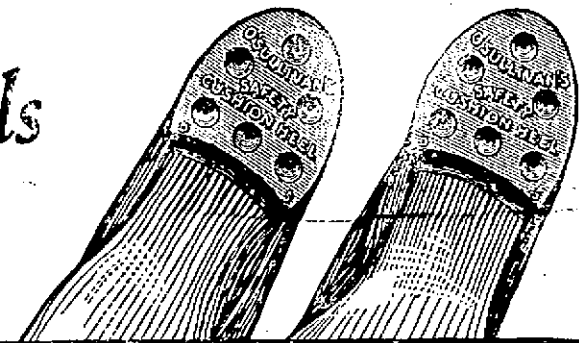

O'Sullivan's Heels are guaranteed to wear twice as long as ordinary rubber heels; and will outlast three pairs of leather heels.

Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes.

O'Sullivan's Heels are furnished in black, white or tan; for men, women and children. Specify O'Sullivan's Heels, and be sure that you get O'Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes.

a pity nobody would let him rule and thrones, and let them run their courts.

They complained that he was confined in hunting to this one estate. They had been notified, they said, that Paderewski's chalet was adjoining and that if he shot anything on the pianist's grounds it might mean some kind of a war between Poland and Austria. And just because of his love for Austria, he wouldn't get her in any trouble even if he did have to stay on his own grounds to shoot.

The amusing thing about it is that somebody is kidding him. Paderewski's home, I found when I passed it later, is miles up the lake. Several estates separate it from Karl's exile home.

In company with other correspondents, I talked with ex-King Constantine for half an hour in his luxurious suite at the Hotel National at Lucerne.

An off day

You may have an off day occasionally. It may follow eating too bountifully, or may come from overwork, or perhaps from exposure when fatigued. A dull, heavy, tired feeling in the morning, a headache or a cold in the early stages; these symptoms unfit a person for doing his best, and may lead to illness if neglected.

There is a remedy, safe, sure and reliable, which should be in every household for just such emergencies, the true and original "L. F." Atwood's Medicine. It may be safely used by persons of any age, from children to those well advanced in years. The best way to keep well is to prevent illness, and a teaspoonful or two of this old standard remedy will often prevent serious illness if used at the beginning of trouble.

And the "L. F." Atwood's Medicine a sure relief for sick headache. We have used it in our family for forty years and would not get along without it.

Get a bottle today and use it when needed, fifty cents, or write us to send you a free sample. The "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

Trustees Will Stand by Award

An attached request that it be read by the presidents of the 15 local unions at special meetings to be called tomorrow evening for the purpose of accepting or rejecting the recent 13 per cent. award. Although officers of the Lowell union have not received official instructions from the joint conference board to call a meeting for tomorrow night, Pres. Powers said this morning that doubtless one will be held.

Pres. Powers did not wish to make any premature statements regarding the letter or the probable sense of the meeting, other than to say its purpose was one of consideration, that the men were extremely dissatisfied with the award and that a vote would probably be taken to accept or reject. When asked if rejection meant a strike, he said "that would not necessarily follow" and when questioned as to other alternatives, he replied that the men first probably would go back to the company for another increase.

The flat statement made by the trustees in making public their intention to stand by the award, reflects their stand in case of a strike. Union leaders in Boston last night felt confident that the men will remain at work pending the decision arrived at at these special meetings, but actually look for a suspension of work as the ultimate result. There is a general feeling that the men will vote to strike and allow

Nothing Like Plain Bifro-Phosphate to Increase Strength and Vigor.

According to a noted French Scientist, the most effective remedy for nervousness, insomnia and ailments due to depleted nerve force, is a form of organic phosphate known among druggists in this country as Bifro-Phosphate.

It is described as a substance which is similar in composition to the phosphorus naturally found in brain and nerve cells and, being easily and quickly assimilated, the work of creating nerve force, strength and vigor begins immediately. It is taken into the human system.

There are many reports of astonishing results from its use, some showing remarkable improvement even in stubborn cases of long standing nerve weakness. As there are many kinds of phosphate, care should be exercised to procure the genuine Bifro-Phosphate as sold by A. W. Dow in Lowell and all good druggists.—Adv.

The company and riding public 26 hours in which to prepare for the stopping of the service.

Pres. Powers and the other heads of the various unions when they address the special meetings, will read the letter of the trustees and simply place the situation before the members and other than to tell them that the joint conference board is unanimous against accepting the award, will make no recommendations.

A meeting of the sub-committee of the joint conference board is being held today at the Quincy House in Boston to arrange for a meeting of the full board tomorrow, at which instructions will be issued for the calling of the special meetings.

The award of 12 per cent. over which so much dissatisfaction has arisen and which is the pivot upon which the threatened strike revolves, fell short of the terms of the recent award in the case of the employees of the Boston Elevated Railway, obtained by independent arbitration and which employees of the Eastern Massachusetts had expected to be equalled in their case.

The letter of the trustees to the men follows:

"To the Members of Locals 174, 235, 238, 240, 243, 246, 249, 253, 261, 270, 280, 282, 475, 503, 551.

Dear Sirs: At your meeting Wednesday night you are going to announce to 1,500,000 car riders whether or not you believe in arbitration.

The only question properly before you should be—Do we intend to remain true to our solemn agreement to abide by our arbitration award?

At the written request of your joint conference board your wage case was taken before the war labor board, the trustees were asked by the joint conference board to agree to a joint submission, and the trustees did so.

What could be fairer than such a course?

If arbitration awards are going to be cast aside with impunity, of what use are they?

For years organized labor has struggled to obtain rightful recognition through arbitration. Now that this long and weary battle has been won, we cannot believe that you men intend to tear down the structure built by such painful effort.

With arbitration agreements flouted and the sacredness of the solemn promise gone between employer and employee, the industrial world would be headed toward disaster.

The public trustees have obeyed all arbitration awards when they believed that the decisions were against the weight of evidence.

Without hesitation they reinstated a Lawrence motorman who was suspended on the charge of alleged intoxication. They also countermanded an order directing that the photographs of employees, paid for by the company, must appear on free passes.

The public trustees and the union cannot consider only themselves in this matter. Bigger and greater than either the company or its employees is the traveling public.

Our patrons have the right to expect service, and it is our joint duty to furnish it.

But this cannot be done if either of us, whenever we are dissatisfied with an arbitration award, forthwith proceed to violate its terms and the up our lines.

Public sympathy is never with the party to a labor dispute which deliberately breaks its word and tramples upon arbitration agreements.

The public trustees intend to stand firmly by the national war labor board's wage arbitration award by which the public must pay $1,000,000 more in wages this year to our men.

We call upon every fair minded employee to co-operate with us in procuring the public from such an outrage as the wilful repudiation of the award.

Yours very truly,
HOMER LORING, Chairman.

FRED J. CROWLEY, Chairman.

Arrives in Elate

Max of Baden is reliably stated to have arrived in haste one night recently, in a motorboat that brought him across Lake Constance. But he has also kept out of sight. He is expected almost any day at his old favorite haunt, a mountain hotel near St. Moritz.

Alfonso, the infant of Spain, lives here in Zurich, in a boarding house! But the "boarding house" is a mansion overlooking the city, with beautiful gardens and high walls.

The Swiss say he is in Switzerland arranging investments for the king of Spain against the day when he too may be an ex-king in exile in the royal asylum.

Alfonso's wife, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, is a first cousin of almost every king and ex-king in Europe. Her friends say she used to weep and cry: "Why doesn't someone stop this terrible war? What am I to do? I love my people on both sides."

Alfonso is a kodak fiend and a crack aviator. He runs about Zurich barcheaded and rides up and down to his "boarding house" in a nickel-ride, public funicular.

Reports say Bethmann-Hollweg is soon coming to live in his castle on the edge of Lake Thun, near Interlaken. Scheldemann, since his government refused to sign the peace treaty, resigned, and has been in retirement in Zurich and Lugano.

And said administratrix is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, post-paid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this eighth day of August, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen.

F. M. ESTY, Register.

ARE YOU GOING DEAF?

DO YOU GASP FOR BREATH?

My specialty is treating deafness and head noises, asthma, freeing clogged nostrils and giving places in the breathing tubes. I have devoted twenty-eight years to the treatment of this class of ailments and now by the discoveries made by me I am able to treat deafness and head noises without using instruments in the ear tubes.

THE NEW SYSTEM

Of Deafness and Bronchial Treatment by Electricity

8 Visits For $5

If you suffer with clogged nostrils, discharging nostrils, are going deaf, or have head noises, or discharging ears, or have a bad throat or bad stomach, or gasp for breath and suffer from those other distressing symptoms of asthma, I will be pleased to have you visit at my office, at my cost, for nothing for an examination and if you begin treatment this month you will receive eight office treatments for this class of ailments, whether the disease be in the eyes, ears, nose, throat, bronchial tubes or stomach.

Mixed Summer Foods The Cause Of Much Indigestion

SUMMER days are days of careless living, kitchens too hot for cooking, cold lunches at the homes of friends, open-air picnics, with the result that many a family is down with indigestion.

Give the stomach and bowels a new start by taking a dose of a good laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. These put variety into your diet by eating more warm food. It is more easily digested.

A bottle of Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50¢ and $1, the latter the family size. It acts so gently and safely that it can be given even to a baby in constipation, indigestion, "summer colds" and similar ills.

The formula on which Syrup Pepsin is based was written by Dr. Caldwell over 30 years ago. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that trains the stomach-muscles to do their work naturally so that medicines can again be dispensed with. Over 6 million bottles of Syrup Pepsin are sold by druggists every year. That is recommendation in itself.

If you have never used Syrup Pepsin, send your address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

MAHONEY—The funeral of Henry J. Mahoney took place this morning at 9 o'clock from his home, 7 Wilson street. The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends, including the following delegation from Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus: War Service Secretaries Daniel H. Quinn, John F. Mitchell, James Flannery and Joseph Ginty. The cortege proceeded to St. Andrew's church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral mass was sung by the pastor, Rev. David Murphy; the choir, under the direction of Mr. Charles T. Fairbrother, rendered the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Mr. James Gannon and Mr. Fairbrother, Miss Marie O'Donnell presiding at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes and of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were the following Billerica members of the Knights of Columbus: John Joseph O'Brien, John Lyons, Andrew Soule, Arthur Mahoney, Martin Lydon, and Edward Quinn. At the grave Rev. Fr. Murphy read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell and Sons.

FERRON—The funeral of Henri Ferron took place this morning from the home of his sister-in-law, in St. Elie Bureau, Wood's Corner. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Jean Baptiste church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Rosario Jalbert, O.M.I. The bearers were Arthur and Ernest Ferron, Louis and Joseph Ferron. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Edouard Carrier, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Amedee Archambault & Sons.

FUNERAL NOTICES
CUNNINGHAM—Died Aug. 18, 1919. Fr. Crossin, Alexander G. Cunningham, in the 54th year of his age. Funeral services will be held at his late residence, 52 Belmont street, Lowell, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Friends invited without further notice. Burial private. The funeral services are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

ADAMS—Died August 18th, in Chelmsford Centre, Charles E. Adams, aged 55 years, 4 months and 15 days, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Catherine M. Smith, Chelmsford street. Funeral services will be held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Catherine M. Smith, Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Friends invited without further notice. Burial private. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

HOWARD—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Howard will take place Thursday morning at 8 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter F. Cawley. A funeral mass will be sung at St. Margaret's church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell and Sons. Motor cortege.

SCULLY—The funeral of Mrs. Nettie Scully will take place Wednesday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter F. Cawley, 21 Grace street, at 3 o'clock. Friends invited. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell and Sons.

MASS NOTICE
There will be an anniversary mass for the repose of the soul of Eva Curtin, at the Immaculate Conception church, Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock.

CONTRACTS AWARDED BY PURCHASING AGENT

Purchasing Agent Edward H. Foye has awarded contracts for several lots of lumber for portable schools recently after a number of bids had been received and opened. The first lot included Georgia pine and spruce planks, and the bids were: Burnham & Davis, $595; Pratt & Forrest, $623, and Amasa Pratt, $639. Burnham & Davis were awarded the contract. The second lot included Georgia pine flooring and spruce materials and the bids were: Burnham & Davis, $447; Pratt & Forrest, $563, and Amasa Pratt, $1039. Burnham & Davis were also awarded this contract. The third lot called for Carolina pine, spruce and fence rails, and the bids were: Burnham & Davis, $493; Pratt & Forrest, $474, and Amasa Pratt, $495. Pratt & Forrest were awarded the contract.

STATIONARY FIREMEN

The stationary firemen employed in the local cotton mills, who are out on strike, held a meeting in Labor hall, Central street, this morning, with President Quinn in the chair. Committee reports were heard, routine business was transacted and at the close of the meeting it was stated that there was nothing for publication.

border by messengers Sunday. Peterson, immediately sent a message to his father at Hutchinson, Minn., saying: "Feeling fine. Had wonderful experience."

Davis also sent a similar message to his parents at Strathmore, Cal.

Captain Matlack returned with Davis at 2 o'clock this morning, both men riding the captain's horse.

According to the agreement, Captain Matlack made the journey into the Mexican rendezvous unaccompanied. He was to pay over $7500 for the release of one aviator and the remainder when the second aviator was released.

Matlack's Ruse

Captain Matlack's ruse, by which he saved $7500, was contrived on the spur of the moment after he had escorted Peterson across the border.

"I just decided there was no use paying those Mexicans that other

WHICH?

$7500 after I had Davis, so I told him to jump on behind on my horse. I spurred him hard and we had a wild dash for the border and made it. They called for us to halt, but I said 'Go to h—' and crossed."

Captain Matlack said the two aviators landed in Mexico, contradicting the story of Lieut. Peterson. He said the aviators thought they had landed in the United States and this impression was not corrected until after they had reached the border today.

The aviators, the captain said, had become confused while in the air, and had mistaken the Conchos river for the Rio Grande. Instead of landing near Candelaria as they thought they had landed at a point near Palomier, Chihuahua, more than 10 miles up the Conchos river, where they abandoned their wrecked airplane and vital parts which might make it of use to the Mexicans.

Thinking they were on the Rio Grande, they started down stream in an effort to locate Candelaria and report their accident to military headquarters. They landed at 12:30 Sunday afternoon and were picked up Wednesday morning by Jesus Renteria and a band of five other Mexicans. They were taken into the mountains but thought they were approaching Valentine, Tex. They were told that 60 men belonged to the band, while in reality the aviators saw only 20 men at the ranch where they were held. Captain Matlack said the bandits were well mounted.

The Americans tried once to escape, but were threatened with death and did not renew their attempt.
